PHONE TIMES, TUNE CKDA FOR ELECTION RESULTS

The Times will co-operate tonight with radio station CKDA in bringing results of the national election to the public as quickly as possible.

Starting sharp at 7 the Times telephone service, number 2-3131, will go into operation with up-to-the-minute figures on the counting so far. At the same time CKDA will begin broadcasting results. During the evening CKDA will make special broadcasts direct from the Times newsroom. A chart on Page 13 can be used to follow party standings by provinces.

Under the Canada Elections Act dissemination of eastern voting results is not permitted here until after the local polls close at 7. Should there be a big swing in the east the national trend may be established by that time, but if the east splits the whole election could rest on the results in B.C.

Ike's Illness 'Not Serious'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An "upset stomach" put President Eisenhower in bed today. But three examining physicians said there is "no indication" the illness is "in any way related" to Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack or to last year's ileitis condition.

"The president is progressing very satisfactorily," the White House press secretary, James Hagerty, told a press conference after consultation with Eisenhower's doctors.

Hagerty said the report he put out came from Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart specialist at the U.S. Army's Walter Reed Hospital; Maj.-Gen. Leonard Heaton, Walter Reed commandant; and Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician.

Eisenhower was stricken about 10 p.m. Sunday night, and was nauseated and vomiting during part of the night. Snyder remained with him all night. The other physicians were called in today for consultation in what the White House described as a "precautionary" step.

In reply to a question at the midday press conference, Hagerty said there were no plans for moving the president to hospital.

Hagerty first announced this morning that the president had suffered the attack. In his second statement Hagerty said:

"The president is progressing very satisfactorily. He has had no nausea from his stomach since early this morning."

"He now is sleeping comfortably. His pulse, temperature, respiration and blood pressure continue to be normal."

"As reported earlier, his electrocardiogram (tracing heart performance) shows no change."

A reporter quoted State Secretary Dulles as saying Eisenhower's stomach upset was due to his having eaten some blueberry pie.

At the capitol, Vice-President Richard Nixon told reporters: "We expect to see him (Eisenhower) back in his office tomorrow."

The announcement of Eisenhower's illness sent the New York Stock Exchange into a frantic wave of selling, but as later bulletins were announced it began to recover.

Hagerty said Eisenhower's appointments for the day were cancelled on the advice of Dr. Snyder.

'Death Row' Author Granted New Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ordered a new hearing for Caryl Chessman, California sex terrorist and prison cell author.

The court split 5 to 3 in the case of Chessman, who has waged a nine-year legal fight to escape death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

The majority said the California Supreme Court's affirmation of accuracy petitioner (Chessman) has had no voice in determining, cannot be allowed to stand.

Thus Chessman is entitled to a new hearing before the California Supreme Court, the court said.

Chessman was known as the "red light bandit" of lovers' lanes in Los Angeles. His latest appeal centred on the issue of the accuracy and legality of a transcript of his 1948 trial.

The transcript was prepared by Stanley Frasier from notes taken by Ernest R. Perry, trial court reporter who died before he could transcribe all of his notes. Frasier is a relative by marriage of the deputy district attorney who prosecuted Chessman.

Chessman's death sentence was pronounced under California's Little Lindbergh Law. This makes kidnapping a capital offence if the person abducted suffers bodily harm.

Chessman also was convicted of attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery, automobile theft and other crimes.

Marryin'-Shy Irish Let RCN Lasso Brides

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (BUP) — The 19,000-ton aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure, which the Canadian Navy commissioned here in January, soon will sail for Halifax with a load of brand-new bridegrooms.

Lt. Gerry Maloney, of Hamilton, Ont., said that by the time the new carrier heads for home, June 21, about 30 of its crewmen will have married Irish girls.

"The boys have been parading before the captain almost every week since most of them got here early in January to get permission to marry girls from the Belfast area," Maloney said. "They are still doing it."

So far, Captain H. V. W. Groos, of Victoria, B.C., has given all about marrying and knew what applicants his blessings. Under they might come up against.

Brentwood Man Drowned Trying to Save Daughter

One of 5 Deaths In V.I. Waters

A 48-year-old Brentwood man was drowned Sunday morning while attempting to rescue his eight-year-old daughter from the treacherous waters off McCurdy Point, four miles due north of Hall's Boathouse on the Malahat side of Saanich Inlet.

The man, Cyril George Campbell, an asbestos worker of Grise Lane, Brentwood, drowned in 500 feet of water after his daughter, Angela, and his wife had been taken to safety.

His body had not been recovered up to press time. The fatality was one of five drownings which occurred in Vancouver Island waters over the weekend.

The others were: Josephine Henry, an 18-month-old baby, and her father, Hubert Henry, 26, of the Tsartlip Indian Band, West Saanich, in 500 feet of water off Gooch Island near Sidney.

A 19-year-old mainland youth, not yet identified, who drowned Sunday night at the Upper Campbell Lake damsite. Witnesses said the youth swam across the lake and presumably suffered a cramp. He tried to climb from the water, but was stopped by overhanging banks.

Leslie Russell, 45, of Vesuvius Bay, Salt Spring Island, whose body was found floating beside his 18-foot launch in Stuart Channel, a few yards offshore from Crofton.

Cyril George Campbell, an employee at the Victoria Machinery Depot, leapt into 500 feet of water when eight-year-old Angela toppled out of his 20-foot cabin runabout.

He and his wife were fishing and their daughter was a passenger in the boat with Maureen Tattler, 11, of Brentwood, when the accident occurred.

RCMP motor launches were still searching the area for Mr. Campbell's body today, while a seaplane circled overhead.

Body May Be Miles Away by Now

"The water there is more than 600 feet deep in places and the currents are unpredictable," an RCMP officer said. "The body may be miles away by now."

J. McQuillan, who lives near the Hawes family at Brentwood, said Mr. Campbell invited him to go fishing with him Sunday morning.

"I could not make it," Mr. McQuillan said, "and I believe Mrs. Campbell went along in my place."

"They then took Mrs. Campbell and Angela and the little girl Maureen ashore while I continued searching the area for Mr. Campbell."

"There was no sign of him." Mrs. Campbell, Angela and Maureen were reported suffering from shock and distress today but were otherwise unharmed.

U.S. Not Disarming On Soviet Promises

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that the United States will never disarm "merely because of Soviet promises" to behave.

Dulles said it would be reckless "folly" for this nation to do that. He said, however, that the United States is "actively seeking through United Nations procedures, ways whereby armaments can be safely reduced."

Dulles made the statement before the house foreign affairs committee in defence of President Eisenhower's foreign aid budget. He said the aid funds are needed to bolster U.S. allies around the world against the threat of Communist aggression.

The task of world disarmament, Dulles said, "is immensely complicated by the fact that it is not safe for us to alter and weaken the military dispositions which protect us merely because of Soviet promises. There must be dependable supervision and control of all promises and procedures to assure that we may not be victimized by promises that are illusory."

His testimony came as U.S. disarmament negotiator Harold E. Stassen concluded weekend conferences here and prepared to fly back to London, where he will lay out the American "limited" arms reduction plan before Russia, Britain, France and Canada.

FEW MILES FROM WHERE CRABBE DIVED

U.K. Frogman's Disappearance Revived as Body Washed Ashore

CHICHESTER, Eng. (AP) — War frogman disappeared on a mysterious diving operation near a Russian warship.

Crabb's mission has never been officially explained. Sir Anthony Eden, then prime minister, was questioned in the Commons about whether Crabb had been spying on the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev to Britain in April last year. Eden declined to answer, hinting that a reply might stir up international complications.

Russian seamen on the Ordzhonikidze reported they saw a frogman — presumably Crabb — near their vessel in Portsmouth harbor. Russia protested. The British reply expressed regret and said that what Crabb was doing was "completely unauthorized."

The Admiralty would say only that Crabb was presumed dead after failing to return from a test dive on April 19, 1956.

The admiral who commanded the visiting Russian squadron told Pravda on his return to Moscow he doubted that Crabb was near the Ordzhonikidze without authorization.

A West German newspaper said it learned from a Soviet naval officer that Crabb was caught and was a prisoner in a Moscow jail.

HAVE YOU?

Voters began arriving early, soon after the polls opened at 9 this morning. Mrs. Betty Watts, 2811 Nanaimo, brought her family along to S. J. Willis School. She's holding seven-week-old Jay while 2½-year-old Barry and chum Brent Dunford, four, of 770 Market, wait impatiently. Most determined voter was Wing Chong Yee (top right) of 543 Cormorant, who made two trips back to his room from the Victoria Ballroom polling station to fetch identification and his enumeration slip. Casting his ballot for the first time in a federal election was 22-year-old Barry Rushworth (bottom right) a seaman aboard the light-house tender Estevan, who lives at 2615 Blanshard.

Heavy Voting Indicated In Local Areas

Sunny weather and high interest in the two local election races brought out a steady stream of voters this morning. There were indications at noon that both Esquimalt-Saanich and Victoria would have record turnouts.

S. S. Penny, Esquimalt-Saanich returning officer, reported from his office at Sidney that an "unusually large" number of voters had come out in the riding during the morning.

He predicted a record vote, partly on the strength of 4,000 new voters registered since 1953. Alan Macfarlane, Victoria returning officer, said voting had been steady in his riding from the time the polls opened at 9 a.m. A record vote was indicated, he said.

Both returning officers reported their machinery was working smoothly and there were few complaints.

Voters were again urged to bring a copy of their voters' list or enumerator's slip to the polling station. Polls close at 7 p.m.

Some persons were heard to complain that they were unable to vote on the way to work as they can in provincial elections, when the polls are open at 8 a.m. instead of 9.

Over 6 Million Voters On Move, Weather Fair

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — As Canadians trooped to the polls today more than 6,000,000 out of the eligible 9,000,000 voters are expected to have marked their X's on the ballots by the time the polls close.

The cheering and jeering is over. The cross-country parade of political leaders has come to an end. Now the Canadian Parliament opens in October.

Queen Elizabeth will make a quick visit to Ottawa en route to the United States to take part in the 23rd Parliament.

The little man in the polling booth will decide whether the Liberal administration is to continue for another four or five years, or whether Canada is to have a "Diefenbaker" government.

Except for the Prairie provinces where coldness, clouds and some rainstorms were keeping the stream of voters at a slow but steady pace, the weather across Canada was generally sunny adding strength to the forecasts of an exceptionally heavy poll.

Soon after the new Commons has been selected it is expected that it will be formally announced.

Police and the admiralty were attempting today to identify the body. Police said it had been immersed in water for "some considerable time."

A group of British airmen found the body Sunday on a sandbank at the mouth of Chichester harbor, several miles along the coast from the place where the ace Second World War frogman disappeared 13½ months ago.

Wonder how many people's minds actually WERE changed by all that talkin'.

Wonder if that wuz somethin' Mister Eisenhower ate, or somethin' Senator Knowland said?

You Still Have Time to Vote! Cast Your Ballot

ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS

MONTREAL (CP)—Thugs stole "about 100 ballots at a revolver point" in nearby Longueuil constituency, police reported today.

In another election-day incident a ballot box was stuffed in the neighboring riding of Chambly-Rouville.

SEIZES BALLOTS

At Beceuil, returning officer Daniel Beauregard said a man dashed into Poll 85, seized a batch of ballots, hastily marked them and stuffed them into the ballot box before startled officials could interfere. The man then fled.

The ridings are side by side on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, just across from Montreal.

Ville Jacques-Cartier was the scene June 1 of a hectic municipal election in which the Riot Act was read to quell threatening violence by hired "goon gangs" from Montreal.

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent cast his ballot today in the election he hopes will return him as leader of the Canadian government. Skies were sunny and the temperature a mild 64 degrees.

Mr. St. Laurent, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, stepped from his three-story brown brick home on Quebec's Grande Allee an hour after the polls opened.

He drove the half block to the poll in a black limousine but strolled home after casting his ballot.

After his ballot was dropped in the box, the prime minister smiled and patted the constable.

"Another good vote," he murmured.

EDMONTON (CP)—A new weather disturbance brought rain to most of Alberta today, dumping up to one-quarter of an inch of moisture on some areas before the polls opened.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, cloudy and cool weather persisted but those provinces expected little, if any, rain during the day.

HALIFAX (BUP)—Warm air and sunshine produced perfect weather throughout the Atlantic provinces today and voting appeared heavy in many sections.

In the double riding of Halifax, the largest constituency in Canada with some 107,000 eligible voters, long lines were reported before the polls opened.

REGINA (CP)—A slow but steady stream of voters cast their ballots in Regina today on a grey, overcast, unseasonably cold morning.

Returning officer Frank M. Smith said early polling indicated a slightly heavier vote than in 1953, when 31,764 ballots were cast. About 50,000 persons are eligible to vote.

The temperature at 11 a.m. MDT was only 49.

Toronto Home Razed By Blast; 3 Injured

TORONTO (CP)—An explosion blew apart a private home and shook a wide area of the Toronto suburb of North York early today, sending three persons to hospital in serious condition.

Firemen and the Consumers Gas Company were trying to determine whether the blast originated in a gas line.

The injured: Mrs. Margaret McKenna; her son, Michael, 6, and Mrs. Edith Creaser, her mother.

The house was demolished. Draperies hung in the trees outside. Fragments clattered off the walls of neighboring buildings. Concrete blocks were hurled on to adjacent properties.

POWER DISRUPTED

A police constable said the house "looked as if dynamite had been planted all around it and touched off." The blast disrupted power service over a wide area.

A sign advertising insurance, 200 feet from the house and bearing the inscription: "Thinking About Protection?" was pierced by a flying board.

Curtains were driven 70 feet to the home of neighbor, F. R. Jacob, and plastered on to his outside wall.

A budgie bird was blown out of the house, still in its cage, and found an hour later—still alive.

FALLS INTO CELLAR

The only occupant visible when neighbors sped to the wreckage was Michael McKenna who had tumbled into the cellar. The two women were buried in rubble beyond the foundation boundary and had to be dug out.

Firemen thought baby Leo was still inside and dug for more than an hour before they learned that McKenna was away with the lot.

Mrs. E. E. Sheridan, 31, standing in her backyard a few doors away, said she heard the explosion and wheeled around.

"I saw the roof suspended in the air a long way up. Debris filled the air. It started to fall slowly and the noise of the explosion was followed by other crashes as boards and timbers struck the ground."

The house was equipped with both a gas stove and an oil furnace.

SUNDAY BALL HEARING OPENS TODAY

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The latest round in the battle between the Vancouver Mounties baseball club and supporters of the Lord's Day Alliance opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon today at city police court in a case that could decide whether a crack-down should be imposed on Sunday activities in British Columbia. The case was expected to be remanded to June 18.

Executive members of the Pacific Coast League squad were to appear in court on the order of a summons issued last Monday after Sunday games were staged on three separate occasions in Vancouver's Capilano Stadium.

DROWNINGS

high-speed boat circling out of control about 8.15 p.m.

Mrs. Henry, who said she could not swim, was still floundering in the water and the child was floating on the surface about 40 feet away.

Mother and baby were pulled out of the water by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mowbray, 1171 Bute Street, Victoria.

"The baby was dead," Mr. Mowbray said, "and Mrs. Henry was practically unconscious. We took her ashore and soon after she was rushed to Rest Haven Hospital in an ambulance."

Mrs. Henry was today reported to be making "fair progress."

Sidney RCMP officers were still searching the four miles of water between Sidney and Gooch Island for Mr. Henry's body.

Two other boats arrived on the scene soon after Mrs. Henry had been rescued.

John Murray, 3591 Doncaster, Victoria, jumped aboard the Henry's launch as it circled out of control and switched off the engine.

Gordon Dennis, 2499 Eastdowne, Victoria, joined in the search for Mr. Henry's body.

INQUIRY

Dr. E. C. Hart, Victoria coroner, said he will conduct an inquiry into the deaths of baby Josephine and her father, and Cyril George Hayes.

The body of Leslie Russell, 45-year-old engineer and a father of three, was found Saturday night floating beside his launch in Stuart Channel a few yards offshore from Crofton.

Police said he apparently fell into the water while mooring his 18-foot motor launch. He used the launch to commute to Crofton where he was working on the Crofton Pulp Mill Project.

He was employed with the Commonwealth Construction Co. Only 10 days before, he and his family had taken a one-year lease on a home at Vesuvius Bay.

An inquest will be held.

... ELECTION

In the anniversary celebration of the founding of the first British colony in Virginia.

Should the Liberals be returned to power a cabinet meeting would be called for Thursday. Hon. Walter Harris, minister of finance, said in Toronto over the weekend that he hopes and expects a re-elected Liberal cabinet will be able to deal with the problem of a general civil service salary increase at that meeting. Parliamentary approval would be required to make the increases operative, but they would probably be retroactive.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has indicated that a few cabinet changes might be announced Thursday should his government be returned to power. Hon. Roch Pinard, secretary of state and Hon. George Prudham, minister of mines, have retired and their posts must be filled.

Should John Diefenbaker be successful in winning power then there would be a delay of up to 10 days or more in order to allow the Progressive Conservative leader to select a cabinet and to enable the outgoing administration to clean up left-over business.

ONTARIO KEY POINT

The major interest in the east centred on Ontario.

Public opinion polls have shown that Quebec will certainly remain overwhelmingly Liberal, but indicate there has been a considerable swing of strength in Ontario where in popular support the Conservatives appear to have a small edge this year by contrast to 1953 when Liberals took 50 of the 85 seats. So it is here he chief concern will be in tonight's counting.

TORONTO (CP)—James D. Sinclair, 37, hurtled his car at top speed into a bridge abutment near here Sunday. When police went to notify his family of his death, they found his parents, wife and son bludgeoned to death. His two-year-old daughter had been strangled with a necktie.

Police said he slew all five, then killed himself.

Bourges-Maunoury To Become Next French Premier

PARIS (Reuters)—President Rene Coty today named Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, 42-year-old Radical party leader, as French premier-designate.

An announcement from the president's office said Coty had nominated Bourges-Maunoury as premier-designate and in consequence accepted the resignation of Guy Mollet, outgoing Socialist premier whose coalition was defeated on a confidence vote, on new tax demands May 21.

The president said he would accept the collective resignation of the Mollet cabinet Tuesday night.

Bourges-Maunoury is expected to present the new cabinet for investiture by the National Assembly Wednesday.

If he wins the approval of the Assembly he will end France's three-week political crisis and become the country's youngest premier since 1883, and its 23rd since the Second World War.

written by Sinclair and stacked in a neat pile. One said: "I am a split personality."

Bludgeoned in their beds with a piece of pipe were James Sinclair Sr., 74, and his wife, Helen, 72, who had come from the Isle of Arran, Scotland, for a four-month visit with their son. His wife, Margaret, 35, and his son, Ian, 7, were killed in the same way. Two-year-old Fay was strangled with a necktie, apparently because the walls of her crib made it difficult to club her cleanly.

COULDN'T DRINK

Police said Sinclair's note declared his wife and parents had restricted him to a way of life which prevented him from expressing himself. Neighbors had been kind to him, but he had been fed up with the idea he couldn't drink in the presence of his parents because it embarrassed them.

This was how police reconstructed it:

Sinclair awoke at 5 a.m. in the white stucco house he had built in suburban Long Branch. Dressed in shirt and shorts, he went down to the basement and returned carrying a 15-inch length of 2½-inch copper pipe with an elbow at one end, the leftover of a repair job on the kitchen sink.

He walked into his father's and mother's bedroom and struck them on the head about 10 times each. He went into his son's room and bludgeoned him, too. Next he despatched his wife. Then he strangled his daughter.

Sinclair left the house, got into his car and drove to the Queen Elizabeth Way. He went half a mile along the four-lane expressway until he reached a service station. He turned around and roared into the abutment to his death.

2 Egyptian Envoys Must Leave Jordan

AMMAN (AP)—The Jordan government today expelled two Egyptian diplomats on security charges. They left by plane for Cairo.

A government announcement said Foreign Minister Eamir El Rifai asked the Egyptian Embassy in Amman to withdraw its military attaché, Maj. Fuad Hikal, after he tried to enlist a Jordanian in a plot to assassinate "certain official personalities in Amman."

The announcement said the recall of Mohammed Abdul Aziz, consul general in the Jordan sector of Jerusalem, was demanded for "reasons connected with security."

Rifai earlier told a press conference Egypt had been asked to replace its representative on the joint Egyptian-Syrian-Jordanian military command for "misbehavior." Rifai did not go into details.

Relations between Jordan's King Hussein and Egyptian President Nasser have grown increasingly strained since the young king in April ousted leftist and pro-Egyptian officials who dominated the Jordanian government.

Party Liners Obstruct Fire Alarm

COURTENAY (CP)—Party liners prevented a frantic farm mother from phoning in a fire alarm shortly after noon Saturday.

The fire was believed to have started when three-year-old Merrick Preece found some matches in an upstairs bedroom. Some insurance was carried.

PACIFIC, Calif. (AP)—A plane hit a house Sunday night, killing the four passengers, but eight persons sharing a birthday dinner in the home, and only 10 feet from the crashing wreckage, were unhurt.

Neighbors in this San Fernando valley suburb of Los Angeles today were calling it "a miracle."

Barry Worth, 30, and his family were finishing hamburgers and corn. A cake with candles on the table in honor of his mother-in-law's 57th birthday.

Then the Piper tri-pacer plunged down onto the one-story home.

It tore a jagged gash across the roof and wound up in a jumble of wreckage on the patio. The four occupants—businessmen from Chico in northern California—were killed.

Two Drowned, Seven Missing In Florida Blow

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two sons drowned, seven others were missing and five were rescued in a tropical storm that swept across Florida from St. Petersburg on the Gulf of Mexico to the Georgia line.

Perry, about 50 miles southeast of Tallahassee, was hardest hit as the storm swept across the state and out to sea near Charleston, S.C.

Two hundred families were evacuated at Perry, drenched by 11.6 inches of rain.

An elderly man was drowned while motorboating and a 10-year-old boy was drowned when he was caught in heavy surf.

Two of seven men aboard the 26-foot cabin cruiser Kinnebar reached safety but five others were feared drowned. Two other men were reported missing in a small boat.

FRANCE HARDENS FIGHT AGAINST ALGERIA REBELS

PARIS (Reuters)—Robert Lacoste, French residing minister in Algiers, said today he has given the army and police there orders to "step up and harden the fight against the rebellion" following new rebel bomb attacks Sunday night.

Lacoste was called to Paris during the weekend. He will fly to Algiers today.

Beer Drinking Up

LONDON (AP)—The world drank 7 per cent more beer last year, according to statistics issued by the British Brewers' Society today. Total consumption rose to 7,092,000 gallons. Britons drank "more than a pint a head more, but the biggest increases were in West Germany and Austria."

UNEF Chief in New Bid to Halt Mine Explosions on Gaza Strip

ASHKELON, Israel (AP)—UNEF commander Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada and Israeli chief of staff Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan conferred today on how to halt strife in the Gaza Strip border.

If any agreement was reached, neither divulged it at the end of their hour-long meeting at this Israeli coastal town eight miles north of the Gaza Strip.

Burns said a proposal to erect a barbed wire fence along the border was discussed, with no conclusion reached.

He also said he and Dayan discussed a series of incidents in which the Israelis claim land mines killed one Israeli and injured seven others in the last two weeks.

Burns said the mine incidents are "one of the things on which we are very concerned."

Burns disclosed there were "a number" of mine incidents during May in which UNEF vehicles were blown up, causing some light casualties.

The international military force under Burns has been patrolling the Egyptian side of the Gaza border since Dayan withdrew his troops in March, after seizing the area from Egypt last fall.

Israeli spokesmen say Egyptians are resuming guerrilla warfare from behind the UNEF lines. Last fall Israel said one reason for invading Egyptian territory was to put a stop to border raids by Egyptian-controlled commandos.

The Strike Vote

THE PROPOSED STRIKE IN the British Columbia timber industry raises great problems for workers, for the provincial economy and for the nation as a whole.

The workers, quite naturally, are interested in getting the highest possible wages and the shortest possible working hours. The province is interested in keeping its largest industry in uninterrupted operation. The nation cannot be indifferent when a strike threatens to close a major segment of the national economy and reduce its output of wealth.

Of course the workers have every right to bargain for a larger share of industry's profits and, if they so decide, to strike. But, in their own interests, they must ask themselves, and doubtless are asking themselves, what they can hope to secure from a strike.

If a strike is called and succeeds it may raise wages but it can also reduce employment, benefiting some workers and damaging others.

Some large timber companies are able to pay higher wages at the expense of reducing their profits, which already have been drastically reduced, as their annual reports show, during the last year. A reduction in profits will first hit the shareholders in the form of smaller dividends and, second, will curtail the amount of money available for reinvestment in the expansion of industry and employment.

Assuming, however, that the big companies can pay higher wages without risking their solvency and may prefer them to weeks or months of unprofitable idleness, the situation of virtually all small companies is quite different.

The largest companies are not dependent entirely or even mainly on the sale of lumber in a weak world market outside their control. They also make pulp and paper that sell in a strong market at a high price. And to make pulp and paper they must have logs, whether their lumber operations are profitable or not. Almost every sawmill in B.C. today is losing money.

The industries making only lumber are entirely dependent on the lumber market and they must sell against increasingly sharp competition outside Canada. Their costs of production already are high compared to those of their foreign competitors, with the exception of the American mills.

Can they afford to raise their costs still higher without raising their prices? If they raise their prices how much business will they lose in the world market and how many men will they put out of work at home?

These are not theoretical questions of interest only to economists, nor merely financial questions interesting only to the operators. They directly affect the livelihood of some 30,000 skilled British Columbia workers and indirectly the prosperity of every business, without exception, in a province which lives mainly on its forests.

Though these questions must affect everyone, only the timber union can answer them directly by its decision to strike or not to strike. Of all times for a strike this must be the worst when the timber market is soft and world competition hard.

Too Fast in the Passing Lane

VICTORIA IS CALLING FOR blanket revision of the new Municipal Act. The city seeks this action even before the legislation comes into force at the beginning of next month.

Municipal objection to the act takes two forms. Sections of it, according to the advice of the city solicitor, are not explicit in their meaning. That is one cause of complaint. The other is civic disagreement with the policy which the act seeks to establish. Victoria, for instance, does not want an appointed police commission.

When the bill embodying the new laws was debated in the Legislature Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black frankly admitted the probability of imperfections in it. He made a plea for its passage, arguing that flaws could be corrected later once they had shown up in operation.

Under certain circumstances, such a plea would be reasonable. No one could expect a compilation of such size to escape all error.

The position of the city and other municipalities, however, is obvious. They are required to carry on their business under legislation which, by their claims, is meaningless in certain instances and in others runs contrary to the will of the people they represent.

The latter is the case on the question of an appointed police commission. Victoria has tried the system and rejected it by vote of the citizens. The council naturally protests its reimposition.

Discussions on store closing hours—covered by a clause in the act which Premier Bennett says is inoperative—have also revealed a glaring error in the legislation.

Some of the faults might have been corrected had the bill been submitted to study by the municipal committee. Perhaps a number of them would have slipped through even with such study. But at least the Government would have escaped from its present indefensible position. Opposition members urged delay in passing the act. The administration's majority overrode that warning. Now the Government has in its lap an act—probably good in general concept—which has roused the hostility of the municipalities and has been criticized in specific particulars because, say the men who must apply it, they won't work.

No one questions the magnitude of the job undertaken by those who framed the new act. At this point, it is apparent that passage of the bill was too hurried.

Because of the holes in it, the municipalities are acutely embarrassed—the Provincial Government even more so. In this confusion of its own making what does the Government propose to do?

Doing Nicely, Thank You

THE UNIVERSITIES OF CANADA owe a vote of thanks to Assistant Principal J. Alex Edmison of Queen's.

Mr. Edmison listened to a public relations expert tell university heads of this country they have forgotten that their institutions are supposed to be citadels of higher education. He heard the same speaker say that it was small wonder that universities are not understood by the public and need a top-flight public relations technique to inform the people.

To these assertions Mr. Edmison has replied, in effect, that university leaders feel they are doing all right the way things are.

The Thrilling Years

ONE OF THE MOST THRILLING aspects of life in this era is the day-to-day possibility of announcements that another of the diseases afflicting man has been conquered. Diphtheria, yellow fever, smallpox and other scourges have been overcome. In more recent years tuberculosis and poliomyelitis have been checked by medical advances. Now a woman researcher in Philadelphia reports that she has isolated the heretofore unknown germ that causes multiple sclerosis.

If her work indeed proves to have been successful, another terrible af-liction of mankind is well on the way to defeat. About a third of a million persons on this continent are crippled by multiple sclerosis, their lives made miserable, if not impossible, by its invasion of their bodies. If the present announcement is verified by subsequent study, another great victory will have been won. More undoubtedly are on the way. Arthritis, cancer, other ailments eventually will fall.

After centuries at a standstill, man is making giant and rapid strides in destroying the destroyers. We live, indeed, in thrilling times.

Today's Election Speech

BETTER THAN PILLS

By B. A. TOBIN

Hipped on Hypnotism

A GOOD many of the tricks of the old-time stage hypnotists seem to have been used during the election campaign that ends with a plop in the ballot boxes tonight. Like the fellow who is always called up from the audience to help the performer, the public has been asked to fix its attention rigidly on a bright and shining object—i.e. the speaker's promised utopia. It has been bemused with an outpouring of hypnotic words—the accusations, promises and soothing assurances heard over the past couple of months. It has been exhorted to rivet its gaze on the magic wand, cut from a plank in the speaker's platform, that will end all troubles and bring complete happiness.

But the closing of the polls ends the trance. Midnight strikes at 7 p.m., as it were. The magic spell is broken, the political hypnotists return to their homes, the voters return to their TVs, the British Columbia cabinet returns to British Columbia, and things return to normal.

It's only a mild attack of hypnotism, of course. And the large variety of practitioners ensures that none of them will completely succeed. There are too many distractions.

But it's something that aspiring politicians might well look into; hypnotism is going to be increasingly used in the future.

Speak Softly

"Your eyelids are getting heavy, you're feeling sleepy, see-ee-ee-ee..." may soon become a common greeting in a dozen different professions.

The British Medical Journal, for instance, suggests that doctors should make more use of hypnosis in treating such diverse afflictions as "excessive smoking, alcoholism and warts."

That's quite a reversal of attitude, because the medical fraternity has been taking a dim view of such goings-on for a good many years. Now there seems to be clear evidence that hypnosis presents a ready means of eliminating certain ills, particularly those deriving from upset mental conditions.

But that fact itself poses some far-reaching questions. Since the whole effect of modern civilization appears to be to increase tensions and other psychiatric problems, and this trend is becoming worse, (pick up any page of any newspaper if you don't already believe this), then we might reasonably expect that if hypnosis is any help at all, its use is going to increase too.

Where does that get us in the long-range view? Can we look forward to an ultimate world of semi-zombies, going through their daily paces in a trance-like state—the only state in which they are able to endure the environment they have created?

It's an interesting outlook. Citizens will report to their hypnotist at regular intervals to renew the trance, lull their emotions, soothe their minds, and enable them to face another week of an impossible world.

There will even be a do-it-yourself school. Only a few months ago some expert came out with a book telling you how you can hypnotize yourself, make yourself achieve goals that used to be out of your reach, make yourself love a neighbor you've always hated, and probably even develop a liking for mashed turnips.

Such a system, once it becomes properly established, will render obsolete the present makeshift method of achieving happiness with a pill. Hypnotism will replace this practice just as atomic power will replace coal and oil. The tranquilizer drugs and the energizer tablets will be shoved to the back of the medicine cabinet. The day of pep-up pills and pipe-down pills will be past.

Interim Aid

We must admit they will have served their purpose though. The benzadrine boosters and the Milton padifiers, helping you to run away from what you couldn't keep up with, in the one case, and to sit out what you can't stand, in the other, may ultimately be looked back on as the discoveries that saved the human race.

Historians, if there are any of them left, will report that these gifts of science made life bearable while we waited for The Bomb.

Hypnotism, when in the course of progress it replaces these pharmaceutical aids, will be much better. The disadvantage of the pills is that you have to wake up to take them. Hypnotism would overcome this. Properly arranged, it would give you perfect mental security, from the cradle to the grave.

Shades on the other side of this vale of tears, boasting of a successful passage through their earthly phase, will say, "There was nothing to it, fellas. I didn't even know I was alive."

Some of today's electorate, I have no doubt, have already anticipated this state. We can only look upon them with envy, as forerunners of the brave neurological world.

I believe that the methods of science are a wonderful device for discovery about all that can be weighed, measured and observed with instruments, but that contrary to the belief of the materialists, they can tell us nothing about ultimate reality.

One Man and None

Catching up on my reading after a holiday on the mainland, I have been very amused at Mr. Bennett's repeated reference to the Conservative Party as a "one man" party.

Bennett should look out, comparison will show that his party hasn't even got one man.

CCF and Profits

Amidst all the ballyhoo of this election campaign, one fairy tale seems to take the cake for absurdity and that is the slogan seen posted at many CCF meetings which goes—"People Before Profits."

One of the first things Premier T. C. Douglas did after the election of the first CCF government in Canada was to boast of the increase in the interest rate on Saskatchewan government bonds and the great confidence that New York investors had in these bonds since the CCF took over.

People didn't come before profits when the British version of the CCF were in control of national affairs in England, in fact many new millionaires were made while the people took a reduction in their standard of living. Anytime and anywhere a social-democrat government has been in office, profits have been the motivating force for production as per usual. They can't help this. They have never been elected with a mandate to end the profit system.

When the CCF speak of taxing profits they are contradicting their slogan by admitting that they don't intend to do anything about abolishing them. The Co-operative Commonwealth will be a capitalist one.

Wheat Surplus Problem

In a Social Credit broadcast the other morning, aimed seemingly at the farmers, the Liberal government was berated for not getting rid of the wheat surplus when there are so many hungry people in the world.

I, too, would like to see the fullness of the earth made available to all God's children and I think the wish that our surplus should reach the have-not peoples is one common to the members of all political parties in Canada. But to attain that end there must be wide understanding of the problem and practical planning not just raucous oratory and wishful thinking. The speaker gave no clue as to how the Socialists plan to carry out this election promise of help to the hungry. I should like to learn what procedure they advocate.

Quite apart from the very great task of distribution—and the Social Party is opposed to anything suggestive of world government—there is also the problem of the government's securing this surplus wheat. It of course belongs to the men and women who grew it. Would a Social government expropriate it? Would they buy it? If by the latter method would the Canadian taxpayer be willing to support this subsidy to the farmers?

Isn't the Social party all for free enterprise and opposed to subsidizing to anyone—that is apart from oil magnates—and very definitely against the government engaging in business?

Solon Low says "Government should keep out of business, let private enterprise not social enterprise, prevail." Can it be that the local Socialists instead of following their leader have been converted to the CCF philosophy and seek a planned economy for Canada?

Nasser Does a Switch

THE signs are now quite clear of a sharp swerve (though certainly not a real turn) in the policy line of Egypt's Gamel Abdel Nasser. Most important of these signs was the two hour and a half interview that the Egyptian President accorded to Raymond Hare before the American Ambassador.

But in the end a kind of understanding to put a stop to the public Egyptian-Jordanian slanging match was reached between Rifai and Nasser.

Nasser promptly tested the willpower of the Jordanian government, by stimulating his Syrian satellites to publish a bitter attack on Jordan for requesting the withdrawal of the Syrian troops that were stationed here until recently. But young King Hussein insisted on giving as good as he got.

The Syrians passed by the vigorous Jordanian answer to their attack in almost complete silence. Thus one must assume for the present that Nasser, too, thinks his interest will be served by patching up the appearance of Arab unity, at least in the case of Jordan.

No modern politician can give so much seeming emotion to the question, "Why can't we be friends again?"

The Nasser government has long been almost totally preoccupied with venomous anti-Western agitation throughout the Arab world. Yet no one can equal Nasser when he rolls his eyes heavenwards and swears that he has no other preoccupation, except to promote the welfare of the suffering people of Egypt.

Obvious Motives

Altogether, it must have been quite a performance. One would still be inclined to dismiss it as just another Nasser performance. The motives, such as Nasser's urgent desire to lay hands on the Egyptian funds now frozen in America, are too transparently obvious.

But before the performance for Hare's benefit can be so cavalierly dismissed, it is also necessary to consider the other signs above-mentioned.

Not least of these was the reception accorded to Jordan's new ambassador to Cairo, Abdel Moneim Rifai, who had been rudely recalled from the Jordanian Embassy in Washington by Nasser's local friends and agents just before the great change here.

Abdel Moneim Rifai's brother, the able Jordanian Prime Minister in all but name, Samir Rifai, wants to patch up the outward appearance of Arab unity. In particular, he wants to end the mutual denunciations of the Egyptian and Jordanian press and radio.

Chance for Beauty

Now that the slums are being cleared away on old Broughton Street, 800 block, and with that lovely vista to the Cathedral, what a glorious opportunity has been lost to make an outstanding and beautiful parking lot, instead of replacing the old eyesore with a new one in the form of billboards.

Well spaced, tubbed shrubs or flower pots could have been placed between the lots or a hedge of broom, so typical of our island. Broom could have been brought in from the Sooke Hills and planted all around the area at no greater expenditure of labor and money, I am sure, and involve a minimum of upkeep.

A CITIZEN.

No Rubber Stamp

The advertisements of one of Victoria's candidates for federal office imply that the others were, are, or will be "rubber stamps."

It can be said that Victoria's MP for the last session failed to "qualify" for this description when it came to a request being made by one of his constituents.

The impression was made on a visitor to Ottawa in pursuit of a course which could have little appeal to Mr. Fairley personally. Nevertheless, his request was seen through to ministerial level with every courtesy, ability and activity which one could possibly expect, and was effectively answered within days.

It is unlikely that Mr. Fairley was, is, or will be a rubber stamp in Ottawa when the interests of his constituents are concerned.

Who's Boss?

Mr. James Nesbitt is so right when he states the new Government House must be kept as close to the original as possible.

The original plans must be used as he says, for there is no architect living who would redesign such a mixed conglomeration of stone, stucco and clapboard as that building was before it burned.

There is certainly no excuse to tear down the two stone towers. This would insure that the mortar, weakened by the flames, would crumble in a few years endangering again the lives of the occupants.

We are happy to have the assurance of an historian that "the premier's the boss". Until a few short years ago we untutored taxpayers had considered that in a democracy the premier was a public servant.

Bomb But No Blast

Recent news releases warn that we are all now being poisoned by atomic radiation.

We are also warned that atomic weapons are necessary to our defence. We are further told, however, that to use atomic weapons will be suicidal.

It seems that some positive steps are at last being taken by all nations to ban atomic weapons. Let us pray these efforts are sincere.

It looks like our immediate need is for information concerning the nature and extent of radiation poisoning. What damage has been done to us, and what damage will be suffered by future generations. It appears there is now a body of fact on this subject.

How about a prominent series of illustrated articles?

British Relations

Finally, although it may seem rather odd, it is certainly Nasser's wish to re-establish good relations with Britain.

The Anglo-Egyptian talks about unfreezing Egypt's funds in London have broken down rather abruptly. But a kind of indirect courtship of the British is still being carried on. It takes the form of overtures to British diplomats by Syrian representatives both here in Jordan and elsewhere in the Middle East.

Like all Syrian moves, these overtures bear the imprint "Made in Egypt."

The motive of this courtship of the British unquestionably goes beyond getting the use of the Egyptian funds frozen in London. In the days before Suez, when Britain was the more active Western power in the Middle East, the Egyptians were always trying to play off the Americans against the British.

Quite often they succeeded. Now the same game is to be played again but just the other way round. As one British diplomat wryly remarked, "It's like the brides-in-the-bath murderer" (who found that he did very well drowning his first wife in her bath, and so went on to drown two more).

Such then is the evidence for a rather big switch in the Egyptian policy line. What the switch may mean requires further careful analysis.

The Man In the Blue Serge Suit

I WISH I wasn't so shy and so reluctant to ask personal questions, because I'd like to know more about the man I saw some months ago in the office of the High School Correspondence Branch of the Department of Education.

He was sixtish at least, I'd reckon. He was very tanned and weathered with square jawed hands. His suit was navy blue serge, neatly pressed but smelling just a bit of mothballs. His "city suit," I'm sure. His hat was brown and shabby with sweat-stained ribbon. His speech was heavy with a European accent that I couldn't recognize, though it was definitely not Scandinavian.

He and his wife were evidently working together on a correspondence course, and they were almost ready to take the exam. But they'd like to take it at the same time, if they could. Because his wife, she was a little nervous. And he didn't mind waiting till she was ready.

So much I learned by shameless eavesdropping as he listened to instructions given about the sort of person who would be a good supervisor of the test.

(As soon as I came home, I looked through the "Regulations and Details of Courses" until I came to the bit about "Adult students who live in very remote places far from any school or neighbours may write their tests on the honor system, with the exception of tests in which there is a departmental examination...")

With my imagination, of course, I drove home making up fascinating stories about this man and his wife.

Which European country did they come from? Where did they live now? Was it up the West Coast somewhere, perhaps? Or up one of the lonely inlets on the mainland? A float house, maybe, that was towed from place to place? Or were they farming somewhere? How did this man earn his living? What course were he and his wife taking? It must be some subject that would be of interest to them both. Had they been in Canada long? Were their children perhaps better educated than they were? And, if so, were they a little bit ashamed?

They shouldn't be ashamed, I told myself, getting quite worked up over something that might not be so at all. Because many a peasant immigrant to Canada has toiled hard to give his children the "book learning" that he himself didn't get. And many such a man has been disappointed when his children didn't take advantage of the proffered education which their father couldn't have.

And then I pulled myself together because I was acting just like Mrs. Rachel Lynde at the beginning of "Anne of Green Gables." (Do you remember when, from her window, she saw Matthew Cuthbert driving by, and she couldn't rest until she knew where he was going. So finally she just slipped up to Green Gables to get it straight from Marilla. I think that chapter's a marvellous bit of character writing. But then I have a great admiration for the whole book.)

Oh well, there's no use wondering about the man in the blue serge suit.

But nowadays, when I hear people mention adult education, I think of him and of that big office with all its workers and filing cabinets.

What a lot of human-interest stories must lie within those ordered files.

It's just another subject I'd really like to know a whole lot more about.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

20 Strait-Jacket Years

LONDON—It won't be long before the English will have been 20 years in the strait-jacket of money restrictions on those who want to make trips outside this country.

This has prompted the PEP organization to blast the government to ease the financial curbs on British travelers, especially to North America.

Political and economic planning points out that whereas 250,000 Americans visited Britain last year "the ludicrously small number of 37,000" made the reverse trip from Britain.

The treasury will allocate dollars only to three categories wanting to go to the States, or Canada—business men with export interests, exchange professors and students, VIP's, and those visiting close relatives. The ones going to see relatives get a flat allowance roughly, equivalent to $100, no more. The others can get a maximum (if they're lucky) of $40 a day expenses.

The treasury has recently improved things for those going to the continent. It raised to £100 the allowance that was as low as £10 after the war. Plea now is for the treasury to put potential visitors to the States and Canada on the same basis.

The Travel Association says: "The introduction of a dollar allowance equal to the allowance for Europe would cost the country little, if any, extra dollar expenditure. British visitors would persuade their relatives and friends to make return visits, thus increasing the number of dollar tourists."

Not a very strong argument, but those interested in increasing travel outside Britain grab at any straw that might ease restrictions that make embarrassed spongers out of those visiting Canada and the States with only $100.

Also the frustration of having money in plenty in England but not being allowed to take any quantity of it out makes lawbreakers of hitherto upright citizens. Any Canadian living in England is constantly being propositioned by English people to accept a couple of hundred pounds here and write out a cheque for the equivalent on a Canadian bank.

And what is the reply of the treasury to this clamor for letting up the restrictions? The typically governmental statement:

"The Chancellor of the Exchequer is anxious to provide a basic travel allowance for dollar areas as soon as circumstances allow."

SYNOPSIS—Skies were generally overcast along the northern B.C. coast this morning and light rain fell in the Queen Charlotte Islands overnight. In most other areas there are only scattered cloud patches.

An onshore flow is expected to maintain the cloud in the north coastal area although there will be some breaks in the cloud cover in most districts. In the remainder of the province the prospect is for decreasing cloudiness and some what higher temperatures as a high-pressure area moves in from the west.

African Coal Cheap
PRETORIA (AP)—Dr. A. J. Van Rijn, South African minister for economic affairs, said today that with an estimated reserve of 70,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, South Africa is producing coal cheaper than any other country.

South Africa now is producing about 36,000,000 tons of coal annually, or 2 per cent of world production.

Problem Spot in Garden? Park Workers Can Assist

Almost every garden, large or small, has a problem spot. Local nurserymen and their plant lists, and books or periodicals, can be of assistance, yet some of these problem spots need to be considered in detail at first hand.

During the next few months there will be ample opportunity for most gardeners to visit public parks and gardens, also private gardens. With a keen eye open for aspects, soil or terrain similar to your own, there will come the lucky day when you find the solution to your problem.

You will find parks' workers and officials, both here and on your summer travels, very ready to help. Private gardeners rarely turn away and enquire brusquely, although it is remarkable how many people do not know the names of the plants they grow. It is like not knowing the names of members of the family.

When visiting this summer make a habit of carrying a notebook and pencil with you. Record the names of plants which catch your interest, note their habits, the date, and spend a while trying to discover their names if they are new to you. Whether you get the local common name or the true botanical name, spell it out clearly so that you will still recognize it weeks later.

Solving your problem spot in this way may make it one of the most interesting features of your garden, for it will recall memories of a summer trip or pleasant associations with other gardeners.

IT'S RAINING ALLIGATORS IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) After the rainy weather in Texas this spring, there's no telling what you'll find in your backyard.

But Mrs. R. D. Boykin wasn't prepared for the 2½-foot alligator she spotted when she took her baby outside to soak up some rare sunshine. Her screams brought her husband and a neighbor, who trussed up the reptile and called police. The alligator had escaped from a nearby zoo.

Presbyterians Told of Big Need To Find More Trained Workers

VANCOUVER (CP)—The retiring moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada said Saturday the whole future of churches in Canada rest on the success of recruiting more trained personnel.

Dr. Finlay Stewart of Kitcheener, Ont., told the church's 83rd General Assembly that churches should send representatives to high school graduating classes, as business firms do, to outline opportunities in the church.

It was moved to hold a conference in September to study the recruiting problems. Dr. W. S. Taylor, principal of Union College at the University of British Columbia, represented the United Church of Canada at the assembly.

He said the present-day challenge in expansion has never been faced by churches before, "even during the great days of spread of churches through the west."

Dr. Neville Davidson, minister of Glasgow Cathedral and chaplain to the Queen, said Sunday men and women must be ready to carry Christianity "into the enemy occupied areas of our national life."

"The better our Christianity, the less safe we are," he said. "The better our Christianity, the more courage it will take. We live in an age when the vast majority of people have lost the sense of the reality of a spiritual realm."

In his treasurer's report Mr. Justice A. M. Manson said Vancouver Presbyterians need $39,000 more to complete St. Andrew's Hall at the university. He got approval of an extra $25,000 to be added to the board of administration's $100,000 grant toward the building.

Proposed U.S. Levy Could Hit B.C. Mines

Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan conceded today that a new excise tax proposed by the U.S. government would be considered if the bill is brought before Congress.

Many B.C. Interior base metal, the B.C. base metal mining mines sell their concentrates to smelters in the northwest U.S.

Mr. Kiernan said he had heard states, particularly Kellogg, Idaho, nothing official about the tax, and Tom Elliott, manager of the B.C. held out the possibility it may and Yukon Chamber of Mines, said never be brought into effect.

The proposed tax could have a "U.S. mining firms have sought particularly serious effect" on similar restrictive measures on imports in past years, the minister said.

The latest move was disclosed at a congressional hearing in Washington, D.C., last week. The proposed law is reported to have the backing of the administration.

It would abolish the existing tariff on imports of lead and zinc and replace it with an excise tax geared to the price in the U.S.

"It is going to create a problem policy for us here in B.C. if they go through with it," Mr. Kiernan said. The details, Mr. Kiernan said.

MART KENNEY SETS TOUR OF B.C. FOR CENTENARY

Mart Kenney, well-known Canadian dance band leader whom several cities have acclaimed as their "home-town boy," returns to B.C. next year to pay musical tribute to the province that gave his career a running start.

He'll tour the province for several weeks during the fall of the centennial year, hitting practically every accessible community, the B.C. Centennial Committee announced on the weekend.

With Kenney and his Western Gentlemen are expected to be some top Canadian TV stars. Among vocalists will be Norma Locke, his wife.

CHARLES DRIVING CAR

Princess Anne Wears 'Hand-Me-Downs'

LONDON (AP)—The Sunday Dispatch reports that Princess Anne wears her mother's cut-down clothes.

"Nearly all Princess Anne's summer dresses this year have been fashioned from clothes the Queen wore in Nigeria," says the newspaper, "and two of the Queen's prettiest ball gowns are party gowns for her six-year-old daughter."

Source of the report is Princess Anne. Congratulated on her yellow dress by an admiring visitor, the princess said:

"It's not new—it's cut down from mummy's."

The Sunday Express has news of Prince Charles, eight-year-old heir to the Throne. It says Prince Philip is teaching him to drive a car on the roads on the royal estate of Sandringham.

The car has an automatic gear, so all Prince Charles has to do is step on the gas, steer and put on the brakes.

Robins Raise Fine Family On Crane Arm

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Two robins built a nest on an angle bar in the boom of a mobile crane at the air force station here, and thanks to the sentimentality of man, they managed to hang on to the gyrating boom until their eggs were hatched.

The 20-ton crane shifts around the RCAF base lifting and carrying heavy equipment.

Crane operator Jack Westall lowered the boom one day and noticed the nest near the pulley end of the boom. Instead of throwing it out he taped it in and went about his duties.

He expected the robins would ignore the nest when they saw it swinging in giant arcs through the air, but it was their nest and they stuck to it.

The nest was built in April, and a few days ago three eggs were successfully hatched. The young ones, used to swinging through the air, promptly flew off.

(OSCAR CLASS "FULL OF LIFE") (Royal)—Here, in Columbia's "Full of Life" is a comedy-drama that may well emerge as one of, if not the, best films of the year.

Starring Judy Holliday, admittedly Hollywood's top comedienne and the girl who rode to an Oscar for her brilliant "Born Yesterday," capable Richard Conte and an unforgettable character known as Salvatore Baccaloni, "Full of Life" is as homey as a Saturday night bath and as intimate.

Indeed the picture will cause many a veteran motion picture fan to wonder what has happened to Hollywood. For "Full of Life" treats with maternity and Roman Catholicism, two former taboos, with candor and a forthrightness that border upon surprise. And, best of all, it is put together with such gentleness and high good humor that it surely could offend no one.

AS THE FILM opens Judy is full of life and she and her author-husband Conte find the final month an eternity of waiting. One day, while preparing lunch, Judy falls through the kitchen floor. Termite has done their worst and the young couple discovers that the repair bill is estimated to be $1,200. What to do? Judy recalls that

Canadian Tenor Wins London Opera Laurels

LONDON (CP)—Canadian tenor Jon Vickers is praised by weekend critics for his performance in H.F. Berlioz' epic opera "The Trojans," which opened last Thursday at Covent Garden.

Peter Heyworth says in the Observer that Vickers, Prince Albert, Sask., gives the opera's "outstanding performance" as Aeneas.

"This young Canadian has a fine voice with a heroic ring, yet he suffers from none of the knotted constriction characteristic of the breed of heroic tenor, and sings with easy tone and a strong sense of line. When he contrives to concentrate more searchingly on a mood he will be an outstanding singer."

OAK BAY

British Columbia's HISTORIC Bank

Our connection with British Columbia predates the Canadian nation. Nearly a quarter of a century before the railway provided easy lines of communication between B.C. and the rest of the country, the Bank of British Columbia opened its doors in Victoria. Later that same year it added a second branch in New Westminster. When the historic Cariboo Gold Rush brought the need for a bank with courage to provide banking service to the lusty frontier town of Barkerville, a branch was opened there in 1867. And from these early days right to the present, The Canadian Bank of Commerce... which the Bank of British Columbia joined in 1901... has played a major role in the province's development. Today there are 115 branches serving the province, and more planned.

With such a history, we look upon our long association with British Columbia with quiet pride and a sense of belonging.

Terry Fills Big Boots; Wrecks Pils

Terry Rodway doesn't mind wearing someone else's boots. Because of that fact, Nanaimo Timbermen are back atop the pile that represents the Inter-City Lacrosse League. Rodway supplied the firing power at Nanaimo Saturday as the Mann Cup champions clipped Vancouver Pilseners, 16-19.

Victory shot Nanaimo two points ahead of the idle Victoria Shamrocks. Timbermen get a chance to extend their lead when the Nanaimo-Vancouver feud is renewed Tuesday in Vancouver.

Rodway was the key in Saturday's game, marked by a rough brawl in the final frame. The chunky forward, stepping into the vacuum created by an injury to Timbermen's leading scorer, fired six goals, including three in the late going, to stamp insurance on Nanaimo's triumph.

McColl Finished With 141 To Earn Runner-Up Slot

Laurie Kerr, 27-year-old Royal Colwood Golf Club member, finally settled his personal grudge with the Victoria Club course Sunday.

It took a hole-in-one to do it, but the Colwood sharpshooter, "finally beat this Oak Bay layout." That seemed to give the smiling Mr. Kerr almost as much pleasure as scoring his morale-boosting ace on the par-three second hole or winning his second Victoria Amateur championship.

Kerr, the city champion in 1955 and last year's Island Open titleholder, captured the 72-hole medal tournament with a margin of three strokes over clubmate Bill McColl, another former Island and city champ.

The big hole-in-one—a low, into-the-wind shot with a five iron on the 150-yard second hole—undoubtedly was the big blow that carried Kerr to the title. It came during his afternoon round—the tourney's fourth—and final trip around the sprawling 5,997-yard course.

STAN (THE MAN) DUE TO BECOME 'IRON MAN'

NEW YORK (UP)—Stan (The Man) Musial can equal the National League's "Iron Man" record Tuesday night when the Cardinals meet the Phillies in Philadelphia.

By playing in both of yesterday's games against the Giants, Musial ran his streak of consecutive games to 821, only one short of the league record of 822 games held by Gus Suhr, former Pittsburgh first baseman.

Orioles Trim Chisox Lead

You can call them the Baltimore giant killers from now on after the job the Orioles did on the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees over the last two weeks.

Paul Richard's Birds edged into sixth place Sunday, sweeping a pair from the league-leading White Sox to make it three out of four in the series. Only a week ago they gave the Yanks a dose of the same three-out-of-four medicine in their own park.

Billy O'Dell, a 24-year-old southpaw making his first start of the season, struck out 11 White Sox in the second game and 5 shutout after homers by Tito Francona and Bob Nieman helped Orioles' ace reliever, George Zuverink, win his sixth in the opener 7-5. Baltimore now has won eight of its last 11 games.

glanced off his bat following two Tiger homers. Cincinnati Redlegs held Brooklyn to only one run in 18 innings while taking two from the Dodgers, 3-1 and 3-0.

Cincinnati now has opened a 1½ game lead in the National after a one-day drop into third place. The Dodgers and Phillies are tied for second because the Phillies lost to Chicago 7-3 and had to settle for a 4-4 tie in the second game which was called by the Sunday curfew and will be replayed completely.

Milwaukee stumbled again at Pittsburgh: After winning 2-1 on Roberto Clemente's error and a Johnny Logan's single, the Braves bowed to Ronnie Kline in the second game 5-3. Hank Aaron ran his home run total to 15 with one in each game.

St. Louis also edged into the thick of the race by taking two from New York. They won the first 2-1 for Vinegar Bend Mizell's first victory, and 10-7 for Lindy McDaniel, by scoring six runs in the sixth inning.

Although the Orioles created the chief excitement in the American, with the exception of the Tiger-Yankee brawl, there was other action. Boston hit seven homers in downing Kansas City twice 8-4 and 9-5. Ted Lepcio and Jimmy Piersall each hit two and Ted Williams slammed No. 13.

Cleveland settled for a split with Washington, winning the opener 7-2 on Early Wynn's six-hitter, but losing the second 7-6 when Roy Sievers of the Senators hit a two-run pinch homer in the ninth. Vic Wertz and Roger Maris each smashed two homers for the losing Tribe in that second game.

Now's the Time, Ed, To Build Up Another

The pyramid that Farmer Construction was erecting in the Northwest Semi-Pro Baseball League reached the ninth level Saturday afternoon but then toppled abruptly as the powerful Bellingham Belts stopped the Victoria team 7-4 in the second half of a twin-bill.

It left Ed Ash, Farmers' manager, with thoughts of starting another unbeaten streak, starting Tuesday when they tackle Vancouver Young Liberals at 8:30 in Royal Athletic Park.

Big Art Worth, gaining some measure of revenge, recorded Victoria's ninth straight home victory in Saturday's opener when he scattered 10 hits to stop the Belts 5-4.

The Bellingham loss went to Bob Hansen, who stopped Farmers and Worth 6-1 at Bellingham two weeks ago.

A series of smart fielding moves by Farmers preserved the game for Worth in the final two innings, despite home runs by Belts' catcher Don Anderson and left-fielder Walt Richardson.

Palmer Wins Open On 20-Foot Chip

AKRON, Ohio (UP)—Arnold Palmer, former Canadian open champion gave Doug Ford the nod as "the man to watch in the National Open" this week after beating Ford on the sixth hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday to win the Rubber City Open golf tournament.

Ford shot a 65 to catch Palmer at 272 after 72 holes and send the $22,000 tourney into extra holes.

Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., sank a 20-yard chip shot for a birdie on the sixth to take the title. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., was third with 275, after tying for the lead on the second and third days, and Bill Trombley, a Dallas club pro on the circuit for nine months, ranked fourth with 278.

Gerry Kesselring, Toronto, one of two Canadians to qualify for the U.S. Open, was the only Canadian to finish in the money. The former Ontario Open champ fired rounds of 71-68-74-72—285 to pick up $120.

Al Balking, Islington, Ont., wound up out of the money with 75-72-71-70—288.

Mounties Take Twin Bill; Meet Twinks

By The Associated Press

Hollywood's third-place Stars continue to hold the key to the Pacific Coast League leadership. The Twinks, 4½ games off the pace, open a seven-game series Tuesday with the leading Vancouver Mounties after finishing a similar set with the second-place San Francisco Seals.

The Seals, now half a game back, play the basement-dwelling Sacramento Solons.

Tommy Umphlett came off the bench after two weeks of sitting and led the Seals to two straight wins against the Stars Sunday, 7-3 and 4-1. Umphlett hit a home run in the opener, accounting in a run in the second, accounting for both lead-off runs.

The Mounties, who also top individual batting and pitching in the PCL, kept their scant lead by winning 7-4 and 3-1 over Portland.

Seattle Rainier errors allowed defending champion Los Angeles to keep their slipping grip on fourth as the two clubs split a twin bill. The Angels won 7-5 after losing 5-1.

McGowan Wins Main Event; Sets Record

Frankie McGowan, youthful Portland driver in the pit of a fuel-injected GMC, headed a record-breaking list of American entries who walked off with all major honors Saturday night as 4,300 fans turned out to witness the first big-car racing meet at Western Speedway.

It was a big night for McGowan. He set a new track record of 18.97 seconds to top the time trials and then, displaying some sharp driving skill, walked off with the trophy dash and the main event free-for-all.

Shanks Leads Incogs To Win Over Oak Bay

J. Shanks set the pace for Incogs as they downed Oak Bay 86-63 in their Victoria and District Cricket Association match at Windsor Park Sunday.

Shanks batted up 27 runs before being bowled by J. Sheather.

Reg. Wenman came, a close second as he notched 22 before being caught out by H. Dutton. Zerrick Woolfson led Oak Bay as he scored 38 runs, not out.

In Saturday action, both Five C's and Alocs gained wins with Five C's taking a three-wicket win over Duncan as Allan Griffin scored 36 runs not out.

Alocs downed Albions 85-52 with J. Moss leading the batsmen with 27 runs and Ben Twamley taking four Albion wickets for only 15 runs.

Score card: Incogs: Shanks, 27; Dutton, 22; Woolfson, 15; Griffin, 36; Alocs: Moss, 27; Twamley, 15; Duncan, 36.

Celtics Blank Hotspurs, 2-0

MONTREAL (CP)—Glasgow Celtic scored two second-half goals Sunday to whip Tottenham Hotspurs 2-0 in an exhibition soccer match.

It was the Celtics' first win of the four-game North American exhibition series with Tottenham. The Spurs won 3-1 Saturday in Toronto.

The Spurs had been beaten only once before in their current tour. They lost 2-0 to the British Columbia All-Stars in Vancouver.

Big Frames Decided Babe Ruth Encounters

Two big innings proved a big help to UCT and Melrose Service in Sunday's Victoria Babe Ruth League baseball activity at Beacon Hill Park.

Travellers ran up eight runs in the sixth inning on four hits, a hit batsman, two walks and a pair of errors to defeat Optimists 15-12. In the nightcap, Melrose cashed in on seven hits and two errors in the fourth inning to speed them on their way to an 11-5 win over Tillamooks.

That Gorge Pace Hard to Follow

Gorge Hotel, the Senior A Men's Softball League leaders, bolstered their margin when they handed Halfway House a 9-2 lacing Sunday afternoon at Central Park.

The win dropped Halfway another full game behind Gorge. Arrow Furniture held firm in third position, gaining a split with Mayo Lumber in Duncan.

The Gorge-Halfway game was featured by a pair of back-to-back homers in the ninth inning, by Ab Wiebe and Verne Evans, that sealed the doom of the Halfways.

Wiebe blasted his far out into centre field over the head of Denis Beaulac while Evans sent his four-bagger through right-centre, between Beaulac and Bob Lowe.

Halfway went ahead 2-1 in the second inning when Norm Dickie doubled in George Brown, and was, in turn, singled home by Beaulac, who was pitching at that stage of the game.

The third was the expensive inning for Halfway and the big one for Gorge as the winners scored five runs to take an unbeatable lead.

Mick Smith and Newman scored the first two on a walk, two errors and a sacrifice hit, while Wiebe was driven home on Verne Evans' triple into left field.

Stan Stewart was left alive when Evans was picked off at the plate by Ken Murphy, at second; but Stewart scored when Gord Jones powered a homer into deep left field.

In Duncan, Sunday, Arrows dropped the first half of their doubleheader 6-5 to Mayos and came back to take the final 11-1.

PARIS (AP) — Police wanted a dozen art students expelled from city-owned dormitories for being boisterous at night and having girls in their rooms.

But a French court ruled that noise-making goes naturally with juvenile exuberance and having girls around is no offence.

Provincial Delay on Bridge Grant Holding Up Other Civic Projects

B.C. government delay in deciding whether a matching grant of $108,000 will be made toward reconstruction of Point Ellice Bridge is delaying other major city developments.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today both a new firehall project and a new garbage disposal system, whether it be a new wharf or a land fill scheme, must await the provincial action.

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant and Ald. J. Donald Smith, who also is a Social MLA for Victoria, have assured any federal contribution would be matched by the province dollar for dollar.

NO REACTION

Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa recently approved a grant of $108,000 toward the bridge but there has been no official reaction from the B.C. government.

The city has earmarked $350,000 for a new firehall and about $225,000 maximum for a new garbage system.

Both amounts are to be financed, it is hoped, by reverted land sales fund, which also is providing cash for the bridge.

Because the bridge job has first priority, the other two projects must wait until it is known how much of the reverted land sales fund it will take.

SOOKE — Graduation ceremonies were held Friday for the senior class of seven students at Milnes Landing Junior-Senior High.

Graduating were Dorothy Anne Olmstead, Sheila E. Morrison, Everett Sandberg, all of Sooke; Patricia A. Pedneault, Point-à-la-Peine; Roberta Adcock, Muir Creek; Jo-Ann Elder, Saseenos, and Leonard George, Jordan River.

FUNERAL of C. A. "Slim"

Belcher, popular businessman and sportsman, was held today with burial at Ross Bay. Pallbearers were Donald Smith, David Burr, Travers M. Custance, George Randall, Frank Kitto and Michael Hoppelle. Mr. Belcher, who died Friday in his 49th year, was a real estate salesman for Bernard and Company, former operator of Belcher's Newstand and had served on the Victoria city police force.

B.C. PILOT KILLED

Victim's Father Protests As 2 Die in Air Show Crash

OTTAWA (CP)—The father of a victim of an air force day crash at London, Ont., has protested to the chief of air staff about "unnecessary risks" taken in such displays.

A. G. Sheffield of Ottawa, father of 24-year-old FO D. A. Sheffield, observer in the CF-100 jet plane that disintegrated Saturday 600 feet over Crumlin airport, said Sunday night he also asked that CF-100s be grounded "due to frequent structural and mechanical failures." The pilot, FO L. E. B. Sparrow, 26, of Powell River, B.C., also was killed.

Sheffield, a former RCAF squadron leader who presented his son's wings at 1952 graduation ceremonies, said he sent identical telegrams to Air Marshal C. L. Slemon, chief of air staff, and to the commander of 433 Squadron, North Bay, Ont., where the plane was based.

Witnesses at London said the RCAF plane disintegrated as it swept low over the airport in a formation flight with two other planes.

A crowd of 8,000 saw the crash. Fragments of the plane, some three feet in length, fell around the fringe of the crowd but none of the spectators was injured.

Michael O'Meara, a reporter for The London Free Press, said he saw one parachute leave the plane. He said it began to open, then collapsed.

The wings and the tail section of the plane came apart as it flew over the airfield, five miles east of London.

The pilot is survived by his wife and a five-month-old daughter both living at North Bay. Flying Officer Sheffield is survived by his father in Ottawa.

$5,000 Bail Set In Fatal Accident

Bail was set at $5,000 for Robert Rory Fraser, 18, 1005 Dunford, charged with criminal negligence and failure to remain at the scene of an accident, when he appeared Friday in Colwood RCMP court.

Charges were laid in connection with a highway accident May 24 which later claimed the life of Capt. George A. Laird, 79, 2763 Winster.

He was remanded to June 21 to set a date for preliminary hearing.

Appearing for Fraser was James Proudfoot, and prosecuting is Lloyd McKenzie.

THE BALD BOY—CHAPTER SEVEN

All About Genes and Bald Spots

By ELMER WHEELER
I was duped. The doc had sold me out.

How could I go home and explain that the "great medical discovery" to keep hair from falling off the noggin, was plain old glue?

So instead, I visited the guy the doc recommended, Peter J. Michael.

He took me into a room and sat himself in front of a large window. He didn't fool me at all. That was an old bald boy's trick, sitting in the window light so you couldn't see, from the strong light, his lack of hair.

Michael's was fast receding. At least, I would get some information from a doomed baldy.

He was most sympathetic. He bared his soul, and his head, and told me how he had read volumes on the hair, on diet, on disorders of the scalp and skin and the mind of the condemned bald boy.

"It all comes down to chromosomes," he told me, and when I asked him what new disease this was he laughed and explained.

HE TOLD ME that the male and the female each have chromosomes in them, and that the uniting of these at conception determines many things, such as the color of the skin, eyes, and whether the child would be a boy or girl, tall or short.

Further, it told whether you'd be bald.

Here is how he explained this point:

It seems every part of us, from our fallen arches to our fallen hair, is made up of cells. Trillions of them.

In each cell there are the chromosomes, 24 pairs of them—48 in all.

What's a chromosome? It's a chain of genes.

Let it be sufficient to say that the 24 chromosomes in the male will pair off at conception with the 24 chromosomes in the female to become the new-born child.

By some unknown process the chromosomes split, each half going into a different cell to multiply.

If these 24 pairs match, the child is a girl; if not, well, you guessed it, the unmatched become a boy.

Still with me?

This is the process that determines...

mines what we will inherit from pop and mom at birth; and if it sounds complicated, remember losing the hair is complicated, too.

NOW HERE IS what Peter J. Michael told me gives or takes away our hair.

Inside one of the chromosomes is a gene that is bad. A malicious gene. For if we get it, we lose our hair. That's science's own explanation.

"Just remember this," said Peter, the near-bald, "the next time some ad or someone tells you he can grow hair on the proverbial billiard ball."

Now, if you are a woman, you've a better chance of not getting this gene that roquettes itself around with the good genes. You see, to "win" the bad gene if you are a woman doesn't count. You must get two of them. Then you are a bald woman.

"Of course, if you haven't inherited the bad gene, and yours is one of those curable cases, you have hope."

"Did your doctor tell you about how the clogged-up condition of the sebaceous gland may be causing premature falling of hair? Did he tell you that the hole in your hair may be from a nervous, upset, worried or just plain nubby dis-eased condition?"

I said no to both.

He told me to make sure the doc covered these two situations while I still had some hair left, and that if these were not my causes of loss of hair, then to return to him.

"I'll give you the psychosomatic cure," he said.

I ASKED HIM what in thunder this discovery was.

He told me it was for the "incurable," the doomed bald boys, the "Curlys" in life.

I walked home. I was so absorbed in these final "hopes" that I actually forgot to wear my hat until a friend yelled: "Hi, Baldy!"

When I got home I kicked the dog into the yard. He was shedding nice long handsome hairs all over the den rug. The beast!

Fire Experiment 'Out of Control'

DUNCAN (CP)—A fire lighted for experimental purposes by Dominion Department of Agriculture research men went out of control at the weekend and threatened the entire timber stand in Robertson River Valley and the holdings of Hillcrest Lumber Company.

Hillcrest Lumber Co. officials said the research men apparently were lighting fires to see how they start and how severely they burn.

The fire, set Friday, burned two acres of choice timber on a re-forested area near Mesachie Lake, Lem Laer, logging superintendent for Hillcrest, said that had the fire been left another half hour it would have been completely out of control.

Two logging crews returning from work at 4:30 p.m. when the alarm came in, were sent to the scene. The blaze was under control by dusk.

Hector Stone, manager of Hillcrest Lumber, said that two camps were shut down because of heat last week, yet the research men had set an experimental fire.

"They couldn't have known what they were doing," Mr. Stone said today. "It was like playing Russian roulette with five chambers loaded, or sitting on a powder barrel and seeing how many cigarettes you could light."

"We're completely shaken around here. They started these fires with only two five-gallon cans of water for protection. We also don't understand the B.C. Forest Service, that knew they were lighting this fire, yet did nothing about it."

"The fire must have frightened the federal crew. We haven't seen them since."

130 Early Settlers
Feted at Saanichton

It was Pioneer Day in Saanichton Saturday when 130 early settlers and relatives from one of the oldest municipalities in the province gathered for their annual dinner and reunion at Pioneer Hall.

The dinner featured home cooking—fowl from the farms, pies of all flavors and strawberry shortcake made from Saanich berries.

Officiating at the reunion was Willard Michell, a nephew of one of the oldest native sons in Saanich, farmer George T. Michell, who is now retired at the age of 86.

BUTLERS

Other guests included Wilfred and Humphrey Butler, descendants of the first teacher on Vancouver Island and Saanich.

The youngest guest was Lynne Nimmo, 11, who is a sixth generation member of the Thomson family, who settled in Saanich around 1883.

Guest speaker was Times women's editor Miss Elizabeth Forbes, daughter of the conductor of the first Victoria and Saanich Railway.

In Car Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ross Brown, 50, a former public relations man for Canada's Progressive Conservative party and one-time Saskatoon newspaperman, is reported in critical condition after an automobile accident Saturday.

His physician, Dr. C. E. Cornell, said Brown suffered a punctured right lung, several broken ribs and bruises.

Police said Brown's car crashed into the rear of a car which was stopped at a traffic signal. The occupant of the other car suffered minor injuries.

Brown now is employed as a sales manager for a Los Angeles manufacturing firm.

Two thousand spectators including the instructor's wife saw the plane fail to pull out of a dive and hit the ground about one mile from the exhibition.

Pro-West Gov't Candidates
Score Win in Lebanon Voting

BEIRUT (AP)—Candidates backing Lebanon's pro-Western government today held 15 of 22 parliament seats decided in the first round of the little Middle East country's general election.

At stake was the prestige and life of the first Middle East government to endorse the Eisenhower doctrine. A government defeat would have been a big boost for President Nasser of Egypt and his leftist, pro-Soviet allies in neighboring Syria.

The ministry of the interior announced that government candidates, including Premier Sami Solh, won 10 of 11 seats in Beirut.

The other 44 seats in the newly enlarged 66-seat parliament will be filled by balloting in Central and North Lebanon on the next three Sundays.

Two short but violent clashes broke out in Beirut during the voting.

Hospital authorities reported one person killed and 11 injured in one riot between two groups of Armenians—one a government backer, the other leaning left and toward Egypt. Police denied anyone was killed. No one was reported hurt in the other fracas.

Egyptian Sentenced

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian court today sentenced one Egyptian to death for spying for Britain but postponed verdicts on four Britons and 11 other men until June 22.

The 16 defendants, along with four other Britons who left the country before their arrests were ordered last August, are accused of spying for Britain to overthrow President Nasser's government.

4-door SedanFirst word in style...last word in luxury
...your CHRYSLER

When you're cruising in this big, soft-purring '57 Chrysler, it's hard to realize that any car could be so quiet, smooth and so tastefully appointed. Yet for all its luxury, Chrysler has the style and stance of a custom sports car. It's a beauty built for action.

Actually, Chrysler comes closer to being "two cars in one" than any other automobile on the road today.

For your dress-up parties and other special events, it's a long, sleek boulevard beauty with all the comforts you could ask. But when you slip into sport clothes and head for adventure, Chrysler can match your mood in an instant. It's low, lean, powered up to 325 h.p.—and with its new push-button automatic drive come the liveliest reflexes ever.

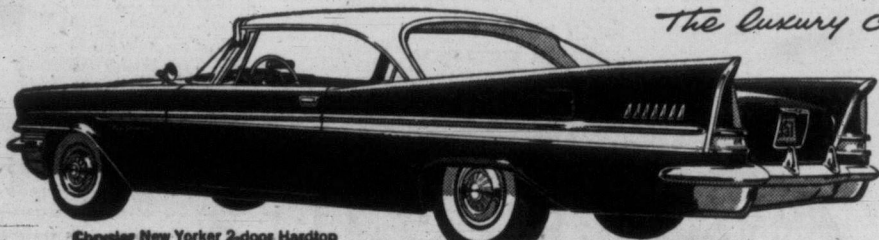

Even Chrysler's new Torsion-Aire suspension has a dual nature. On the one hand it gives you the smoothest, silkiest ride this side of a magic carpet. And on the other, it lets you corner as flat as a sports car, even at highway speeds... and brake without a trace of "nose-dive".

Owning a Chrysler is like owning equal parts of luxury and lightning. It's a thoroughly modern, thoroughly wonderful kind of motorcar. You'll be proud to call it "my Chrysler". And we'll be proud to arrange a test drive for you at any time. Just say the word.

P.S. Naturally, every power-assist feature and special convenience you might wish can be yours on your Chrysler.

Small, Looping Plane, 'Flown by Hand', Rivals Sonic Boom Glamor Boys

By AB KENT
Times Staff Reporter

Creating a "sonic boom" at 30,000 feet, the ground visible only in patches and your aircraft straining its every fibre in a full-power dive is just "routine."

That is how jet pilot W/C R. O. Hetherington, commander of 443 City of New Westminster Squadron, felt Saturday about cracking the sound barrier.

His demonstration of the sharp, cracking double thunder was for many spectators a first-time experience and highlight of the RCAF 11th annual Air Force Day at Sea Island, Vancouver.

An estimated 5,000 persons saw flying and rescue demonstrations and dozens of static displays by Vancouver, New Westminster and Comox reservists and permanent force personnel.

Defence Minister Ralph O. Campney, flown in a Piasecki helicopter from University of B.C. campus, officially opened the flying portion of the program at 1:40 p.m.

For an hour the whistling roar of jet fighter aircraft dominated the airfield, but it was the innocuous demonstration of ground-level aerobatics by a tiny Chipmunk basic training plane that captivated many.

A far cry from the sonic boom, the RCAF Chipmunk was flown "by hand," so to speak, by Harry O'Reilly, former air force flier and now of B.C. Aero Club, who demonstrated his loops, stall turns and wig-wags seemingly within arm's reach of the crowd.

The thrill and wonder of flying seemed to be better brought home by the close-hand demonstration of this versatile, propeller-driven craft, even though jet flight is more spectacular in a transitory way.

W/C Hetherington made his demonstration completely obscured from earth, and in fact was doubtful for a time that the overcast would permit an attempt at flying at the speed of sound.

Asked just before take-off how it feels—he's done it many times since last October when his unit was provided with super-sonic Sabre jets—he replied:

There's very little sensation to it. The aircraft vibrates for a noticeable period just on the threshold of the barrier, and then when it is past Mach 1 (760 m.p.h. at sea level) it smooths out."

Actual "boom" is caused by a build-up of air on the leading edges of the plane's wings when it reaches a speed of 1,100 feet per second—the speed of sound.

W/C Hetherington began his run at 40,000 feet, achieved his speed and pulled out of the dive at about 20,000 feet.

The air force trundled out all kinds of aircraft for display—from the lumbering soon-to-be-retired Second World War Lancaster bomber used by 407 Maritime Squadron, Comox; Canos, Otters and helicopters flown by aircrews of 121 Communications and Rescue Flight, Sea Island, to the fighter jets of Vancouver and New Westminster reserve squadrons and Comox permanent force 409 All Weather Squadron.

Besides the F-86 Sabres and T-33s of reserve units, there were sleek CF-100s from 409 Squadron, the first line of combat for Air Defence Command.

Special events included for the first time a demonstration of the RCAF's latest search equipment SARAH (Search and Rescue and Homing), which sends out a radio beam a search plane may trace.

MONTE ROBERTS

You'll pardon me if I only drop in for a very short visit, but...

Letter to hand from our Milnes' Landing correspondent, commenting on a recent column.

Says she: "At first-glance your talk with Little-Eva about graduating before writing exams seems a bit unusual."

"But, in many ways, isn't it like an election? The candidates will graduate, on Monday evening, and become Members of Parliament but we won't know whether they've passed until they go to work in Ottawa."

"If then,"

Our Milnes' Landing correspondent sounds a bit cynical. Perhaps things would be better if all voters remembered the slogan:

"Spare the thought and spoil the ballot."

I am greatly heartened by the latest news from 'over 'ome.

The latest news from 'over 'ome tells us of the appointment of a new chairman of the board of governors of the B.C.

The new chairman does not own a television set and rarely, if ever, listens to a radio.

With these qualifications he will be able to do an excellent job.

His judgment will not be cluttered up with prejudices, pre-conceived ideas, or the slightest notion of what TV or radio is about.

Bravo for the B.C.

What we need are more heads of organizations who know nothing about the subject at hand.

... but I'm late, I'm late for a very important date.

Perhaps you'd like to come with me while I run, not walk, to the nearest polling station.

POLLS CLOSE AT SEVEN P.M.

CAPT. CHARLES A. GOODWIN

West Coast Loses Top Tug Skipper

Capt. Charles A. Goodwin died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Friday, and a fellow towboat skipper summed it up over the ship-to-ship phone Friday night:

"Old Charlie gone? The West Coast won't be the same."

"Old Charlie" was only 54, but he had been a West Coast seaman most of his life, the last 20 years as master with Island Tug and Barge Ltd.

Previously he served with Victoria Tug Co., and there wasn't a bay or inlet or point on the B.C. coast he didn't know.

TAUT BUT HAPPY

The somewhat easy-going towboat fraternity respected Capt. Goodwin as a kind-hearted disciplinarian who ran a taut but happy ship. For more than 12 years, he was master of the tug Island Commander, and during his command she was generally rated, the best maintained ship in the fleet.

Capt. Goodwin took a special delight in working with youngsters entering the profession as deck hands. He took a fatherly interest in them, and from them accepted—and was offered—no nonsense.

His life was dedicated to the sea, but two other interests held him when on leave—his Gordon Head home, and his fall hunting trips up-island.

Born in Victoria, he was a loyal native son and showed little interest outside of the Vancouver Island area.

Capt. Goodwin is survived by his wife, Marjorie, at the family residence, "Thrus," Ash Road, one son, Barrie; his mother, Mrs. C. A. Goodwin Sr., Victoria; three brothers, Fred and Ben in Victoria, and Nelson in Vancouver.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating. Interment will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Seven School Projects Start In Summer, Fall

New Work to Cost Over $1.3 Million

First phase of new school construction authorized in a $4,470,000 referendum this spring is about to be launched by Greater Victoria school board.

District architects and contractors expect work to start on seven school projects this summer and fall valued at $1,396,000.

SCHEDULE

Here is the schedule of work slated to begin this year:

Wade, Stockhill and Armour are calling tenders for July 4 for a $208,000 addition to the F. T. Fairley Vocational-Technical School.

The project combines plans laid for an earlier building program with construction authorized this year. Included are two automotive shops, a science laboratory, a classroom, storage spaces and two classroom-to-shops conversions.

The same architects will call bids in July for a $125,000 addition of six rooms and offices to a 12-room addition to Oak Bay High School which will cost about $325,000. In August the firm will call tenders for construction of a seven-room addition, worth $150,000, to Oak Bay Junior High School.

School board officials say a new Lake Hill school, valued at $148,000 (six rooms and an activity room), and a similar sized addition at Marigold, valued at $150,000, are also expected to be started this fall or summer.

At present, builders are completing a $125,000 four-room addition to Mount View High School and a $300,000 eight-room addition at Margaret Jenkins elementary school.

SALVAGE JOB FOR CITY TUG

Victoria based tug Island Commander has salvage operations in hand for the U.S. towboat John L.C., aground in Port Hardy harbor, on the northeast coast of Vancouver Island.

The 70-foot U.S. tug was anchored and her stern settled on a rock as the tide went out.

Island Commander was to pump out the flooded tug, then haul her off at high water.

Weekend Car Accidents Injure Four

Four persons were given hospital treatment for injuries suffered in weekend traffic accidents in Victoria and district, none of a serious nature.

Admitted and now in improved condition is Raymond Whalley, Dencross Terrace, North Saanich, who received a head injury when the car he was driving went out of control and was wrecked on Patricia Bay Highway near Telegraph Road, at about 3:15 a.m. Sunday.

Central Saanich police said Whalley's 1948 model car was totally wrecked when it left the highway as it traveled north, rolled over and came to rest in a ditch.

Whalley, who was traveling alone, was picked up by a passing motorist.

At 3:45 a.m. Sunday, on Rocky Point Road, Metchosin, a car in which John Krasey, 21, Box 18, Glen Lake, and Raymond Phibout, 18, 2742 Sooke, were riding, left the road and resulted in chest injury to Krasey and face cuts to Phibout.

They were both in good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Mrs. Maria Williams Yakima, Wash., was treated at St. Joseph's for knee and shoulder injuries after the car driven by Clarence Williams, Yakima, was in collision with an auto driven by Kathryn C. Dangerfield, 16, 2181 Haultain, at Howe and Dallas, Sunday, at 2:45 p.m.

700 Back Drive By Youth Club

New Centre, Drag Strip Sought in Two Petitions

More than 700 teenagers and adults jammed the Plaza Theatre Sunday afternoon to boost the city's new National Youth Club along the high road to organized activities for teenagers.

The first giant meeting of the club was attended by teenagers, parents, school board and service club officials.

More than 140 new members were signed bringing membership close to 500, aged 13 to 30.

Suggestion that servicemen be admitted as members was approved by a unanimous vote.

Two city police officers were on duty at the three-hour meeting and both signed petitions to city council for a youth centre and drag strip.

Altogether 700 signatures were obtained for the two petitions—one for teenagers, the other for interested adults.

A representative of the Canadian Travellers' Association indicated his firm would support the club's proposed expansion across Canada.

First club function will be a rock 'n' roll dance to records at the CCF Hall, Douglas Street, Friday from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

"This will be the first time any group has been allowed to use the hall for rock 'n' roll dances without police officers or commissioners in attendance," supervisory manager of the club, Con Watling, said today.

The dance will be policed by 10 members of the youth police squad.

Bottle Drive to Raise Funds

A bottle drive is planned for Saturday, June 29, as a means of raising funds. There will be a door-to-door pick-up service.

Teenage fashion show for girls will be staged next fall.

Plans also are underway for "work days" when club members will take odd jobs and turn their earnings over to the club finance committee.

Short speeches endorsing the club's plans were made by W.

H. Golby, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board, and representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, 4H Club, Memorial Arena Commission and the Canadian Legion.

Ward Music Company and the Piccadilly Shop have offered discounts to club members carrying membership cards and Steve Allen, manager of the Plaza Theatre, announced he would admit members into the theatre at a reduced rate.

ALFRED CRUMP

... "good fellow."

Rites Tuesday For Golfer Alfred Crump

Funeral service for Alfred Beveridge Crump, well-known local golfer and member of the Victoria Golf Club since 1922, will be held Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. from Hayward's Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Crump, retired, was a semi-finalist in the Empire golf tournament three years ago and some years before that was a finalist.

He died Saturday in Royal Jubilee Hospital, aged 53, after a lingering illness which had prevented his golfing in recent years.

Born in Winnipeg where his father owned a business block, he had lived in Victoria since his youth.

He was known among the golfing fraternity as a "good fellow" and top-form fairway man.

Among survivors are the widow, Elaine, at the family residence, 2658 McNeill, and a stepson, John Walker, at home; mother, Mrs. Percy A. Crump, 1312 Beach Drive, and a sister in Vancouver.

Ven. Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunn will officiate at the service. Cremation follows.

Gorge Residents Prepare Beach For Youngsters

Some 25 residents of Forshaw and Shirley roads in Esquimalt have banded together to sand the beach and "corral" the waters of the Gorge near their homes.

The municipality has supplied 25 yards of sand and five logs for a "floating corral" to add to the youngsters' swimming safety.

The small, rocky beach, used by almost 30 children on the two streets, is being transformed into a summer playground by parents' working parties at night and on weekends.

The project should be completed by the time schoolchildren commence their holidays at the end of June, spokesman Mrs. Guy W. Pickard, 925 Shirley, said today.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

George L. Smith, 934 Stafford, $15 for driving through a school patrol flag signal.

May McMillan, 2204 Cook, $25 for driving without a licence, $35 for careless driving, and $40 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

William Douglas, 236 Gorge East, $25 for driving without a licence and $35 for careless driving.

Margaret Munro, 2015 Paul's Terrace, and Dennis Frank Tupman, 1661 Hollywood, $25 each for driving without a licence.

George Fred Vaux, 968 North Park, $10 for driving through a red traffic light.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Did U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt ever visit Victoria?

A.—Yes, he was here for a short time on Sunday, July 18, 1915. He spoke briefly to a crowd at the corner of the Causeway while on the way to Government House to call on the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Frank Barnard. He also visited the Provincial Museum.

Another crowd saw him as he returned to the wharf to board the ship for Seattle.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Freeman G. Sauk, 2137 Spring, was sentenced in Colwood RCMP court Saturday to a mandatory 14 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. It was his second offence.

A weekend break-in at Arrow Furniture Co. Ltd., 1321 Government netted only $22.10 in cash, but the thief carried off eight cheques made out to the firm to a total value of $298.09.

There was no sign of entry to premises, leading to the assumption the thief hid in the store after closing Saturday, and later left by a back door, which was found open.

Congregational meeting to discuss plans for a new church hall will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church lecture room Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Victoria Medical Society announced today that its limited supply of Salk anti-polio vaccine will not permit new registrations for Operation Polio-Second injections for persons who registered for the first shot last month are being given all this week at the two local hospitals.

Guns of Esquimalt Garrison saluting station fired 21 rounds from six-pounder guns at noon at Work Point today honoring the 36th birthday of the Queen's consort, Prince Philip.

Although the International Union of Operating Engineers has been suspended from the Canadian Labor Congress charged with raiding other unions for members, the union will remain a member of the Victoria Labor Council while negotiations continue between the union and the CLC to settle the dispute.

Graham Steed, organist at Christ Church Cathedral, will give a music recital on the newly-dedicated pipe organ at St. Matthias Church, corner of Richmond and Richardson streets, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Program will include selection by Christa Ortlepp, soprano.

Capital Region Planning Board will conduct a survey this summer to determine how much money tourists spend in Victoria. A previous estimate is $7,000,000 annually.

The information will be compiled as part of an overall future development plan for Greater Victoria area. At present the planners are studying traffic movements in the area with the aid of 39 students who are taking traffic counts each afternoon in the downtown area.

Robert Davis, 1418 Cook, was sentenced in city police court today to 30 days in jail on a charge of causing wilful damage totalling $50 June 7 at 1476 Gladstone.

Police said Davis broke a door at that address, residence of Mrs. Pearl Cook.

Magistrate H. C. Hall instructed the accused to pay the cost of repairs.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating. Interment will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Little Effort Needed For Shining Furniture

By PENNY SAVER

A really super new furniture polish has just come on the market here. Developed especially for a Victoria furniture store by the University of British Columbia Research Council, it comes in both cream and paste forms. The paste is not yet in but will be ready shortly, while the cream is 98c for a good-sized bottle.

The sponsors tell me it requires little rubbing, doesn't darken light woods, leaves no greasy film to show fingerprints, and cleans, polishes, and protects the surface.

But I decided I'd like to see it in action before I recommended it, so I marched into the store and asked for a demonstration.

An obliging salesman got down on his knees beside a large coffee table, sprinkled a few drops of the cream on a cloth, swooshed it over a corner, and there—with no polishing at all—was the most beautiful shiny finish.

I was very much impressed. So was the salesman. But the small bit he'd done looked so much nicer than the unpolished part that he had to do the entire table.

I left him on his knees, glowing, as he went to work on the vast surface.

May she give boy friend clothes?

I have been going with a boy off and on for a year and a half. For his birthday I would like to give him clothes. But mother said, "No girl gives a boy clothes no matter how long she has gone with him." What should I do? Please list gifts that I could give him if I can't give him clothes. I might add that he had to quit college because he didn't have the money to go on.

Louise Davis answers:

Listen to your mother and remember that years bring wisdom. I guarantee that you will be of the same opinion some day and will realize that your case is no exception. It is not correct to give a man clothing whether he is a long-time friend or whether he is a fiance. Let the boy stand on his own two feet. You don't want to kick his pride to the ground, and you as a young woman want to respect him. This is a man's world in spite of the independence of women, and we women don't want to make mollycoddles of our men. This boy will be all the stronger if he learns on his own resources rather than lean on people around him. Don't be such a foolish girl to consider it any more. The best thing that you can give this man for his birthday is encouragement. But if you feel compelled to give him a present, let it be something inexpensive and impersonal, such as handkerchiefs, a book, tie, ash tray. And whatever you do, don't lend him money either.

In Honor of The Bride

Mrs. M. Mooney and Mrs. W. Jeanes were co-hostesses at the home of the latter on Tatterall Drive when they entertained at a shower in honor of Miss Barbara Oliphant, who was married last Friday. The gifts were presented by Miss Linda Mills. The bride-elect received a corsage of pink carnations; her mother, Mrs. D. Oliphant, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. W. Dawson, received corsages of red carnations. Grandmothers of the bride-elect, Mrs. W. Jeanes, Sr., and Mrs. D. Oliphant, Sr., presided at the buffet table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of spring flowers. The bride-elect cut a specially-decorated shower cake made by Mrs. G. Catterall. Guests included Mrs. B. Lilley, Mrs. E. Cooper, Mrs. J. Hendricksen, Mrs. H. Braden, Mrs. R. Mooney, Mrs. F. Wood, Mrs. R. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. McMurchy, Mrs. L. Tyler, Mrs. D. Joyner, Mrs. R. Warner, Mrs. J. Todd, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. Mathews, Mrs. R. Godiel, Mrs. F. Crocker, Mrs. D. Mooney, Mrs. E. TODAY'S RECIPE

Hot dogs were made for happy holiday meals, and what better way to serve 'em than dressed up for outdoor eating with mustard, relish, cheese and bacon. Wieners are cooked when you buy them, only getting the oven, broiling or boiling water treatment to heat them... so next time you're serving hot dogs, partially slit each wiener first and spread with prepared mustard and then with hot dog relish. Insert strips of Canadian processed cheese, wrap them in bacon and secure with toothpicks. Then put them on the barbecue or under the broiler till they're heated—and the cheese is melted and bubbly—and the bacon is crisp and done to a turn. Served in toasted wiener buns they're delish... and for a new twist, serve them minus buns but topped with your very best barbecue sauce. With raw relishes, a fresh fruit bowl and chocolate cake, you will be the idol of all your teenager friends... and we think your adult ones will love you for them too!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is sad but true that many returning vacationists find that their memories of world-famous museums or mountain or seaside resorts are marred by the recollection of smarting, tired feet. Vacation time is usually hard on our underpinnings!

If you are going to do a lot of sight seeing or a lot of walking, you can safeguard the pleasure of your trip by giving thought to the shoes you take along. Podiatrists recommend shoes that are leather throughout; soles and linings as well as uppers. The millions of little pores allow your feet to breathe and the leather gives you support you need.

It is also a good idea to take some closed toe and heel models since these are best when you are to be on your feet a lot. And if your vacation spot has cobblestone streets, you'll want to be prepared. If you expect to do much looking about, you should have two pairs of walking shoes so that you can change them each day—even during the day when possible. This is restful.

These should have a sturdy, well-based heel not more than two inches high. These requirements, and those of fashion, too, are filled by the slenderized Cuban heel or the new contoured wedge heel.

When you buy your vacation walking shoes you would be wise to select them at the end of a shopping day. Feet swell after a day of this kind. If they feel comfortable they will be right for the many miles you will walk during your trip. Feet also tend to swell when you are seated for long periods such as

GARDEN PARTY WILL BE HELD

Setting all conjectures at rest, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Ross, right, on their return from the British Isles this weekend, announced that the annual garden party will be held in the grounds of Government House on Wednesday, July 24, from 4 to 6 p.m. In Victoria the callers' register is in Room 209, Parliament Buildings, and in Vancouver at 4899 Belmont Avenue. Government House officials have a record of all those who called prior to April 11. The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Ross are pictured above with British Columbia's Agent-General W. A. McAdam and Mrs. McAdam, at a reception held in their honor in B.C. Victorian Returns From England With Hopes of New Theatre Here

By DEE LAVOIE

A sparkling young Irish brunette is hoping to be the guiding force behind a new movement to bring professional theatre to Victoria.

Moyra Mulholland has returned from England after two years spent in the hard grind of repertory theatre with high hopes of being able to establish something similar here.

"I am interested in finding out just what people here feel about a theatre," she said, "and just what support I can expect."

"I am sure that a professional theatre could be successful in Victoria if plays that people really want to see are chosen and if good business methods are observed," she added.

Financial backing—enough to allow the theatre to run at a loss, if necessary, for the first year—will be a major problem, she admitted.

"There are plenty of actors of professional calibre here and in Vancouver as well as good producers and directors," Miss Mulholland said.

She is well known in Victoria for her appearances with the Theatre Guild.

LEADING ROLES

During an earlier stay in England, Miss Mulholland spent two years studying at the Central School of Dramatic Art in London. After a visit home, she returned two years ago and besides playing leading roles in the Paignton (Devon) rep. theatre (mostly light comedy and romantic plays) she appeared in an important theatre-in-the-round production at the Gandhi Hall, London.

She has no desire to enter the glittering world of the West End theatre.

"There are so many excellent actors in England, and nearly half of them are out of work," she said. "The competition is just too much."

Between acting assignments, she did an assortment of other jobs—making theatrical props, clerking in a department store. While she is working on plans for the theatre, she plans to give drama coaching, concentrating on children's work. At the moment, she is looking for a suitable studio in town.

She is also planning to give a reading of Elizabethan poetry in a concert with singer Adele Gault, similar to the very successful Jane Austen reading she gave in the Arts Centre when she was last home.

Hancock-Pascoe Wedding Performed at Centennial

Four senior attendants gownned in pale blue and two junior attendants in white formed the bridal entourage for Yolander Helen Florence Pascoe at her marriage Friday evening to Robert S. Hancock, which was solemnized by Rev. Douglas B. Carr in Centennial United Church.

A reception followed at the Golden Slipper, where the toast to the bride was proposed by John Robinson.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon in San Francisco, the bride wearing a cerise linen duster over a toning flowered nylon dress. Her accessories were white and she had a white orchid corsage.

The exquisite bridal gown was fashioned with a yoke of re-embroidered Alencon lace studded with sequins and pearls and a similar scalloped hip yoke extending to an apron effect at the back over the pure silk skirt which billowed out over hoops to form a brief train. The sleeves were short, and the bride wore long gloves. Her fingertip veil, worn over the face entering the church, misted from a cap of sequins and pearls. Her jewelry was the groom's gift of pearl earrings, and she carried a white Bible on which were placed white roses and blue feathered carnations with streamers of roses and carnations. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of J. P. Pascoe, 679 Battery Street, and Mrs. R. A. Purser, 1683 Foul Bay Road.

Four senior attendants, Mrs. D. Shaughnessy, matron of honor; Mrs. J. Shaughnessy, Mrs. S. Simpson and Mrs. A. Northup, wore bouffant gowns of pale blue nylon organza over taffeta dotted with small white flowers. Blue cummerbunds emphasized the waistlines. They had white feather headbands and white carnation cascade bouquets.

Miss Melvina Purser as junior bridesmaid and Miss Holly White as flower girl were in short, hoop-skirted dresses of ruffled white nylon lace over taffeta, with tiny caps of white latticed velvet. They carried white baskets filled with blue feathered carnations.

Peonies Form Setting For Hanna-Hurly Rites

Pink and white peonies were massed in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay, Friday evening for the marriage of Patricia Lela Hurly, daughter of Mrs. Hurly, 912 Heywood Avenue, and the late Thomas Hurly, and Lloyd Elmer Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Hanna, 421 Kingston Street. Ven. Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunn officiated, and traditional wedding music was played at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Lewis Williams, looked lovely in her gown of lace and nylon net over satin. The princess-style bodice was of lace, with long sleeves, while the bouffant skirt was waltz-length. Her circular veil was lace-trimmed, and her jewelry was the groom's gift of pearl necklace and earrings. Red roses and white stephanotis were in her bouquet.

Matron of honor Mrs. J. McNeill wore mauve net and lace over tulle, waltz-length, and carried pink carnations. A similar gown in turquoise with yellow carnation bouquet was chosen by bridesmaid Mrs. A. Martin. Dave McNeill was best man, and ushers were Gerald Ranna and Clifford Migneault.

The reception was held at Club Tango, where red roses, white candles and tulle formed a setting for the cake. John Cox proposed the bridal toast.

For a honeymoon in Portland and Up-Island, the bride donned an avocado green duster with polka dot lining to match her sheath dress. The couple will live at 917 Byng Street.

Colfax Rebekah Blossom Tea

Baskets of early summer flowers and tabled centred with pansies, turned Odifellows Hall into a garden setting when Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, held its Blossom Tea.

Mrs. Eleanor Roberts, general convener, welcomed guests and introduced Mrs. Mary Hahn, who acted as hostess. In turn, Mrs. Hahn introduced Mrs. Margaret Gower district deputy president who opened the tea.

Mrs. R. Stevenson and Mrs. V. Hart presided at the head tea-table and pourers were Mrs. Percy B. Scurrahs Mrs. Arthur Ash, Mrs. A. C. Wurtele and Mrs. B. Murdoch. During the afternoon, Mrs. Ena McCabe, president of the B.C. Rebekah Assembly spoke on work of the Order and Mrs. Sneddon, accompanied by Mrs. M. Silver, sang two solos.

A home cooking stall was in charge of Mrs. M. Dinsmore and Mrs. N. Nelson; tombola, Mrs. Allen; flower stall, Mrs. Winnie Jordan; kitchen, Mrs. Craigdallie, Mrs. L. Maycock, Mrs. L. Slater, Mrs. A. Pearce and Mrs. E. Roberts; door receipts, Mrs. Nettie O'Neill and Mrs. E. Barron.

Coralie Moore Bride Of Glen M. McColman

Summer flowers formed the setting in St. John's Anglican Church Saturday evening for the marriage of Coralie Ann Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moore, 1434 Lang Street, and Glen Myles McColman of HMCS Crescent, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McColman, Red Deer, Alta. Canon George Biddle performed the ceremony, and Frederick Chubb played organ music.

The dark-haired bride, given in marriage by her father, formed an attractive picture in her billowing gown of white nylon tulle, the neckline outlined with sequins and pearls and the skirt flowing to a chapel train. A rhinestone and pearl crown held her nylon net and lace fingertip veil, and her only jewelry was the groom's gift of pearl earrings. Yellow roses, stephanotis and ivy formed her bouquet.

Mrs. J. C. Moore, bridesmatron, wore turquoise net over tulle with matching bolero and head-dress.

dress trimmed with sequins and rhinestones. She had a bouquet of pink daisies. Two tiny flower girls, cousins of the bride, Kathy Battie and Pamela Reynolds, wore yellow nylon dotted Swiss over tulle with blue colonial bouquets. Ken Gibson was best man, and ushers were Geoff Brown and Henry Poirier.

A reception was held at Dulcie's, where the newlyweds cut a four-tier cake topped with the bride's great-grandmother's wedding ring. Walter Hitchcock Sr. proposed the bridal toast.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and the States, the bride wore a blue tweed suit with white coat and accessories and corsage of red roses and stephanotis. Mr. and Mrs. McColman will live at 2821 Irma Street.

PHONE TIMES, TUNE CKDA FOR ELECTION RESULTS

The Times will co-operate tonight with radio station CKDA in bringing results of the national election to the public as quickly as possible.

Starting sharp at 7 the Times telephone service, number 2-3131, will go into operation with up-to-the-minute figures on the counting so far. At the same time CKDA will begin broadcasting results. During the evening CKDA will make special broadcasts direct from the Times newsroom. A chart on Page 13 can be used to follow party standings by provinces.

Under the Canada Elections Act dissemination of eastern voting results is not permitted here until after the local polls close at 7. Should there be a big swing in the east the national trend may be established by that time, but if the east splits the whole election could rest on the results in B.C.

Ike's Illness 'Not Serious'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An "upset stomach" put President Eisenhower in bed today. But three examining physicians said there is "no indication" the illness is "in any way related" to Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack or to last year's ileitis condition.

The president is progressing very satisfactorily, the White House press secretary, James Hagerty, told a press conference after consultation with Eisenhower's doctors.

Hagerty said the report he put out came from Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart specialist at the U.S. Army's Walter Reed Hospital; Maj. Gen. Leonard Heaton, Walter Reed commandant; and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician.

Eisenhower was stricken about 10 p.m. Sunday night, and was nauseated and vomiting during part of the night. Snyder remained with him all night.

The other physicians were called in today for consultation in what the White House described as a "precautionary" step.

In reply to a question at the midday press conference, Hagerty said there were no plans for moving the president to hospital.

Hagerty first announced this morning that the president had suffered the attack. In his second statement Hagerty said:

"The president is progressing very satisfactorily. He has had no nausea from his stomach since early this morning."

"He now is sleeping comfortably."

"His pulse, temperature, respiration and blood pressure continue to be normal."

"As reported earlier, his electrocardiogram (tracing heart performance) shows no change."

A reporter quoted State Secretary Dulles as saying Eisenhower's stomach upset was due to his having eaten some blueberry pie.

At the capitol, Vice-President Richard Nixon told reporters: "We expect to see him (Eisenhower) back in his office tomorrow."

The announcement of Eisenhower's illness sent the New York Stock Exchange into a frantic wave of selling, but as later bulletins were announced it began to recover.

Hagerty said Eisenhower's appointments for the day were cancelled on the advice of Dr. Snyder.

'Death Row' Author Granted New Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ordered a new hearing for Caryl Chessman, California sex terrorist and prison cell author.

The court split 5 to 3 in the case of Chessman, who has waged a nine-year legal fight to escape death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

The majority said the California Supreme Court's affirmation of accuracy petitioner (Chessman) has had no voice in determining, cannot be allowed to stand.

Thus Chessman is entitled to a new hearing before the California Supreme Court, the court said.

Marryin'-Shy Irish Let RCN Lasso Brides

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (BUP)—The 19,000-ton aircraft carrier HMS Bonaventure, which the Canadian Navy commissioned here in January, soon will sail for Halifax with a load of brand-new bridegrooms.

Lt. Gerry Maloney, of Hamilton, Ont., said that by the time the carrier heads for home, June 21, about 30 of its crewmen will have married Irish girls.

"The boys have been parading before the captain almost every week since most of them got here early in January to get permission to marry girls from the Belfast area," Maloney said. "They are grounds. Maloney explained that the navy wanted to be sure that the couples really were serious of Victoria, B.C., has given all about marrying, and knew what applicants his blessings. Under they might come up against."

Brentwood Man Drowned Trying to Save Daughter

One of 5 Deaths In V.I. Waters

A 48-year-old Brentwood man was drowned Sunday morning while attempting to rescue his eight-year-old daughter from the treacherous waters off McCurdy Point, four miles due north of Hall's Boathouse on the Malahat side of Saanich Inlet.

The man, Cyril George Hawes, an asbestos worker of Grise Lane, Brentwood, drowned in 500 feet of water after his daughter, Angela, and his wife had been taken to safety.

His body had not been recovered up to press time.

The fatality was one of five drownings which occurred in Vancouver Island waters over the weekend.

The others were:

Josephine Henry, an 18-month-old baby, and her father, Hubert Henry, 26, of the Tsartlip Indian Band, West Saanich, in 500 feet of water off Gooch Island near Sidney.

A 19-year-old mainland youth, not yet identified, who drowned Sunday night at the Upper Campbell Lake damsite. Witnesses said the youth swam across the lake and presumably suffered a cramp. He tried to climb from the water, but was stopped by overhanging banks.

Leslie Russell, 45, of Vesuvius Bay, Salt Spring Island, whose body was found floating beside his 18-foot launch in Stuart Channel, a few yards offshore from Crofton.

Mr. Hawes, an employee at the Victoria Machinery Depot, leapt into 500 feet of water when eight-year-old Angela toppled out of his 20-foot cabin runabout.

He and his wife were fishing and their daughter was a passenger in the boat with Maureen Tattler, 11, of Brentwood, when the accident occurred.

Heard Screams, Went to Rescue

Ralph Brown, 420 Hillside, Victoria, who was fishing nearby, heard screams and navigated his motor launch alongside the struggling girl.

"I managed to pull her out," Mr. Brown said, "but her father was some distance away and I could not reach him before he went down for the third time."

"Just before he disappeared he shouted to his wife to switch off the engine. Some other fishermen went to her assistance and switched it off."

"They then took Mrs. Hawes and Angela and the little girl Maureen ashore while I continued searching the area for Mr. Hawes."

"There was no sign of him."

Mrs. Hawes, Angela and Maureen were reported suffering from shock and distress today but were otherwise unharmed.

RCMP motor launches were still searching the area for Mr. Hawes' body today, while a seaplane circled overhead.

Body May Be Miles Away by Now

"The water there is more than 600 feet deep in places and the currents are unpredictable," an RCMP officer said. "The body may be miles away by now."

J. McQuillan, who lives near the Hawes family at Brentwood, said Mr. Hawes invited him to go fishing with him Sunday morning.

"I could not make it," Mr. McQuillan said, "and I believe Mrs. Hawes went along in my place."

Mrs. Henry was almost miraculously saved by a party of three fishermen returning to Sidney. They saw the Henry's plane.

(See Also Page 22)

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that the United States will never disarm "merely because of Soviet promises" to behave.

Dulles said it would be reckless "folly" for this nation to do that.

He said, however, that the United States is "actively seeking, through United Nations procedures, ways whereby armaments can be safely reduced."

Dulles made the statement before the house foreign affairs committee in defence of President Eisenhower's foreign aid budget. He said the aid funds are needed to bolster U.S. allies around the world against the threat of Communist aggression.

Israel Breaks Long Blockade

LONDON (AP)—Two London newspapers say Israel has broken the eight-year Arab blockade of the Aegean Gulf by sending the 1,554-ton freighter Athlit through the waterway to Elath.

The Daily Mail story was carried under a Haifa date. The Daily Express story was undated. Neither gave any source for the stories nor did they say when the Athlit reached Elath.

FEW MILES FROM WHERE CRABBE DIVED

U.K. Frogman's Disappearance Revived as Body Washed Ashore

CHICHESTER, Eng. (AP)—War frogman disappeared on a mysterious diving operation near a Russian warship. Crabb's mission has never been officially explained.

Anthony Eden, then prime minister, was questioned in the Commons about whether Crabb had been spying on the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev to Britain in April last year. Eden declined to answer, hinting that a reply might stir up international complications.

Russian seamen on the Ordzhonikidze reported they saw a frogman—presumably Crabb—near their vessel in Ports-mouth harbor. Russia protested. The British reply expressed regret and said that what Crabb was doing was "completely unauthorized."

The Admiralty would say only that Crabb was presumed dead after failing to return from a test dive on April 19, 1956.

The admiral who commanded the visiting Russian squadron told Pravda on his return to Moscow he doubted that Crabb was near the Ordzhonikidze without authorization.

A West German newspaper said it learned from a Soviet naval officer that Crabb was caught and was a prisoner in a Moscow jail.

HAVE YOU?

Voters began arriving early, soon after the polls opened at 9 this morning. Mrs. Betty Watts, 2811 Nanaimo, brought her family along to S. J. Willis School. She's holding seven-year-old Jay while 2½-year-old Barry and chum Brent Dunford, four, of 770 Market, wait impatiently. Most determined voter was Wing Chong Yee (top right) of 543 Cormorant, who made two trips back to his room from the Victoria Ballroom polling station to fetch identification and his enumeration slip. Casting his ballot for the first time in a federal election was 22-year-old Barry Rushworth (bottom right) a seaman aboard the light-house tender Estevan, who lives at 2615 Blanshard.

Heavy Voting Indicated In Local Areas

Sunny weather and high interest in the two local election races brought out a steady stream of voters this morning. There were indications at noon that both Esquimalt-Saanich and Victoria would have record turnouts.

S. S. Penny, Esquimalt-Saanich returning officer, reported from his office at Sidney that an "unusually large" number of voters had come out in the riding during the morning.

He predicted a record vote, partly on the strength of 4,000 new voters registered since 1953.

Alan Macfarlane, Victoria returning officer, said voting had been steady in his riding from the time the polls opened at 9 a.m. A record vote was indicated, he said.

Both returning officers reported their machinery was working smoothly and there were few complaints.

Voters were again urged to bring a copy of their voters' list or enumerator's slip to the polling station. Polls close at 7 p.m. Some persons were heard to complain that they were unable to vote on the way to work as they can in provincial elections, when the polls are open at 8 a.m. instead of 9.

Over 6 Million Voters On Move, Weather Fair

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — As Canadians trooped to the polls today more than 6,000,000 out of the eligible 9,000,000 voters are expected to have marked their X's on the ballots by the time the polls close.

The cheering and jeering is over. The cross-country parade of political leaders has come to an end. Now the Canadian voter has his say as to who will sit in the 23rd Parliament.

The little man in the polling booth will decide whether the Liberal administration is to continue for another four or five years, or whether Canada is to have a "Diefenbaker" government.

Except for the Prairie provinces where coldness, clouds and some rainstorms were keeping the stream of voters at a slow but steady pace, the weather across Canada was generally sunny adding strength to the forecasts of an exceptionally heavy poll.

Soon after the new Commons life and guide us with Thy eyes; for Jesus' sake. Amen. that it will be formally announced.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O Thou by whom we come to God, the light, the truth, the way, shed abroad upon us that light which shall dispel the darkness of doubt, the mists of misunderstanding. Thou who art the truth, enable us by Thy strength to speak and live the truth. Thou who art the way, lead us in the way of everlasting life and guide us with Thy eyes; for Jesus' sake. Amen. that it will be formally announced.

M' Uncle Zeke predicted a Sacred landslide—but he meant they wuz goin' down hill.

Wonder how many people's minds actually WERE changed by all thet talkin'.

Wonder if thet wuz somethin' Mister Eisenhower ate, or somethin' Senator Knowland said?

You Still Have Time to Vote! Cast Your Ballot

ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS

MONTREAL (CP)—Thugs stole "about 100 ballots at revolver point" in nearby Longueuil constituency, police reported today.

In another election-day incident a ballot box was stuffed in the neighboring riding of Chambly-Rouville.

SEIZES BALLOTS

At Belec, returning officer Daniel Beauregard said a man dashed into Poll 85, seized a batch of ballots, hastily marked them and stuffed them into the ballot box before startled officials could interfere. The man then fled.

The ridings are side by side on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, just across from Montreal.

Ville Jacques-Cartier was the scene June 1 of a hectic municipal election in which the Riot Act was read to quell threatening violence by hired "goon gangs" from Montreal.

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent cast his ballot today in the election he hopes will return him as leader of the Canadian government. Skies were sunny and the temperature a mild 64 degrees.

Mr. St. Laurent, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Huch O'Donnell, stepped from his three-story brown brick home on Quebec's Grande Allée an hour after the polls opened.

He drove the half block to the poll in a black limousine but stroled home after casting his ballot.

After his ballot was dropped in the box, the prime minister smiled and patted the container.

"Another good vote," he murmured.

EDMONTON (CP)—A new weather disturbance brought rain to most of Alberta today, dumping up to one-quarter of an inch of moisture on some areas before the polls opened.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, cloudy and cool weather persisted but those provinces expected little, if any, rain during the day.

HALIFAX (BUP)—Warm air and sunshine produced perfect weather throughout the Atlantic provinces today and voting appeared heavy in many sections.

In the double riding of Halifax, the largest constituency in Canada with some 107,000 eligible voters, long lines were reported before the polls opened.

REGINA (CP)—A slow but steady stream of voters cast their ballots in Regina today on a grey, overcast, unseasonably cold morning.

Returning officer Frank M. Smith said early polling indicated a slightly heavier vote than in 1953, when 31,764 ballots were cast. About 50,000 persons are eligible to vote.

The temperature at 11 a.m. MDT was only 49.

SUNDAY BALL HEARING OPENS TODAY

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The latest round in the battle between the Vancouver Mounties baseball club and supporters of the Lord's Day Alliance opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon today at city police court in a case that could decide whether a crackdown should be imposed on Sunday activities in British Columbia. The case was expected to be remanded to June 18.

Executive members of the Pacific Coast League squad were to appear in court on the order of a summons issued last Monday after Sunday games were staged on three separate occasions in Vancouver's Capilano Stadium.

high-speed boat circling out of control about 8.15 p.m.

Mrs. Henry, who said she could not swim, was still floundering in the water and the child was floating on the surface about 40 feet away.

Mother and baby were pulled out of the water by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mowbray, 1171 Bute Street, Victoria.

"The baby was dead," Mr. Mowbray said, "and Mrs. Henry was practically unconscious. We took her ashore and soon after she was rushed to Rest Haven Hospital in an ambulance."

Mrs. Henry was today reported to be making "fair progress."

Sidney RCMP officers were still searching the four miles of water between Sidney and Gooch Island for Mr. Henry's body.

Two other boats arrived on the scene soon after Mrs. Henry had been rescued.

John Murray, 3391 Doncaster, Victoria, jumped aboard the Henry's launch as it circled out of control and switched off the engine.

Gordon Dennis, 2499 Eastdowne, Victoria, joined in the search for Mr. Henry's body.

INQUIRY

Dr. E. C. Hart, Victoria coroner, said he will conduct an inquiry into the deaths of baby Josephine and her father, and Cyril George Hawes.

The body of Leslie Russell, 45-year-old engineer and a father of three, was found Saturday night floating beside his launch in Stuart Channel a few yards offshore from Crofton.

Police said he apparently fell into the water while mooring his 18-foot motor launch. He used the launch to commute to Crofton where he was working on the Crofton Pulp Mill Project.

He was employed with the Commonwealth Construction Co. Only 10 days before, he and his family had taken a one-year lease on a home at Vesuvius Bay.

An inquest will be held.

in the anniversary celebration of the founding of the first British colony in Virginia.

Should the Liberals be returned to power a cabinet meeting would be called for Thursday. Hon. Walter Harris, minister of finance, said in Toronto over the weekend that he hopes and expects a re-elected Liberal cabinet will be able to deal with the problem of a general civil service salary increase at that meeting. Parliamentary approval would be required to make the increases operative, but they would probably be retroactive.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has indicated that a few cabinet changes might be announced Thursday should his government be returned to power.

Hon. Roch Pinard, secretary of state and Hon. George Prudham, minister of mines have retired and their posts must be filled.

Should John Diefenbaker be successful in winning power, then there would be a delay of up to 10 days or more in order to allow the Progressive Conservative leader to select a cabinet and to enable the outgoing administration to clean up left-over business.

ONTARIO KEY POINT

The major interest in the east centred on Ontario.

Public opinion polls have shown that Quebec will certainly remain overwhelmingly Liberal, but indicate there has been a considerable swing of strength in Ontario where in popular support the Conservatives appear to have a small edge this year by contrast to 1953 when Liberals took 50 of the 85 seats. So it is here he chief concern will be in tonight's counting.

Scot Immigrant Murders 5 in Family; Suicides

TORONTO (CP)—James D. Sinclair, 37, hurled his car at top speed into a bridge abutment near here Sunday. When police went to notify his family of his death, they found his parents, wife and son bludgeoned to death. His two-year-old daughter had been strangled with a necktie.

Police said he slew all five, then killed himself.

On the dining room table, they said, were five messages written by Sinclair and stacked in a neat pile. One said:

"I am a split personality. Bludgeoned in their beds with a piece of pipe were James Sinclair Sr., 74, and his wife, Helen, 72, who had come from the Isle of Arran, Scotland, for a four-month visit with their son. His wife, Margaret, 35, and his son, Ian, 7, were killed in the same way. Two-year-old Joy was strangled with a necktie, apparently because the walls of her crib made it difficult to club her cleanly.

COULDN'T DRINK

Police said Sinclair's note declared his wife and parents had restricted him to a way of life which prevented him from expressing himself. Neighbors had been kind to him, but he had been fed up with the idea he couldn't drink in the presence of his parents because it embarrassed them.

Bourges-Maunoury To Become Next French Premier

PARIS (Reuters)—President Rene Coty today named Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, 42-year-old Radical party leader, as French premier-designate.

An announcement from the president's office said Coty had nominated Bourges-Maunoury as premier-designate and in consequence accepted the resignation of Guy Mollet, outgoing Socialist premier whose coalition was defeated on a confidence vote on new tax demands May 21.

The president said he would accept the collective resignation of the Mollet cabinet Tuesday night.

Bourges-Maunoury is expected to present the new cabinet for investiture by the National Assembly Wednesday.

If he wins the approval of the Assembly he will end France's three-week political crisis and become the country's youngest premier since 1883, and its 23rd since the Second World War.

He walked into his father's and mother's bedroom and struck them on the head about 10 times each. He went into his son's room and bludgeoned him, too. Next he despatched his wife. Then he strangled his daughter.

Sinclair left the house, got into his car and drove to the Queen Elizabeth Way. He went half a mile along the four-lane expressway until he reached a service station. He turned around and roared into the abutment to his death.

Toronto Home Razed By Blast; 3 Injured

TORONTO (CP)—An explosion blew apart a private home and shook a wide area of the Toronto suburb of North York early today, sending three persons to hospital in serious condition.

Firemen and the Consumers Gas Company were trying to determine whether the blast originated in a gas line.

The injured: Mrs. Margaret McKenna; her son, Michael, 6, and Mrs. Edith Creaser, her mother.

The house was demolished. Draperies hung in the trees outside. Fragments clattered off the walls of neighboring buildings. Concrete blocks were hurled on to adjacent properties.

POWER DISRUPTED

A police constable said the house "looked as if dynamite had been planted all around it and touched off." The blast disrupted power service over a wide area.

A sign advertising insurance, 200 feet from the house and bearing the inscription: "Thinking About Protection?" was pierced by a flying board.

Curtains were driven 70 feet to the home of neighbor F. R. Jacob, and plastered on to his outside wall.

A budgie bird was blown out of the house, still in its cage, and found an hour later—still alive.

FALLS INTO CELLAR

The only occupant visible when neighbors sped to the wreckage was Michael McKenna who had tumbled into the cellar.

The two women were buried in rubble beyond the foundation boundary and had to be dug out. Firemen thought baby Leo was still inside and dug for more than an hour before they learned that McKenna was away with the tot.

Mrs. E. E. Sheridan, 31, standing in her backyard a few doors away, said she heard the explosion and wheeled around.

"I saw the roof suspended in the air a long way up. Debris filled the air. It started to fall slowly and the noise of the explosion was followed by other crashes as boards and timbers struck the ground."

The house was equipped with both a gas stove and an oil furnace.

An inquest will be held.

Robins Raise Fine Family On Crane Arm

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Two robins built a nest on an angle bar in the boom of a mobile crane at the air force station here, and thanks to the sentimentality of man, they managed to hang on to the grating boom until their eggs were hatched.

The 20-ton crane shifts around the RCAF base lifting and carrying heavy equipment.

Crane operator Jack Westall lowered the boom one day and noticed the nest near the pulley end of the boom. Instead of throwing it out he taped it in and went about his duties.

He expected the robins would ignore the nest when they saw it swinging in giant arcs through the air, but it was their nest and they stuck to it.

The nest was built in April, and a few days ago three eggs were successfully hatched. The young ones, used to swinging through the air, promptly flew off.

(OSCAR CLASS "FULL OF LIFE" (Royal)—Here, in Columbia's "Full of Life" is a comedy-drama that may well emerge as one of, if not the, best films of the year.

Starring Judy Holliday, admittedly Hollywood's top comedienne and the girl who rode to an Oscar for her brilliant "Born Yesterday," capable Richard Conte and an unforgettable character known as Salvatore Baccaloni, "Full of Life" is as homey as a Saturday night bath and about as intimate.

Indeed the picture will cause many a veteran motion picture fan to wonder what has happened to Hollywood. For "Full of Life" treats with maternity and Roman Catholicism, two former taboos, with candor and forthrightness that borders upon surprise. And, best of all, it is put together with such gentleness and high good humor that it surely could offend no one.

AS THE FILM opens Judy is full of life and she and her author-husband Conte find the final month an eternity of waiting. One day, while preparing lunch, Judy falls through the kitchen floor. Termite has done their worst and the young couple discovers that the repair bill is estimated to be $1,200. What to do? Judy recalls that Conte's papa is a professional builder. Why not call him in to do the job? He wouldn't charge them that much? So off they go to California to get papa.

Papa is of the old Italian school. He rules mama with a rod of iron and his big sons hide behind mama's skirts in fear of his strong right (or left) hand, usually strengthened by copious quantities of wine and assorted liqueurs. And when papa hears that his Roman Catholic son was married to his non-Catholic wife six years ago outside the church and now only is the first baby due. Wow!

But, mainly because of his love for Judy—which is enchantingly reciprocated—they finally persuade him to return home with them and repair the kitchen floor. He does everything but. In fact his meddling into their personal lives almost drives them to distraction. Yet, when one day he asks Judy who she wants her baby to be like, she replies "You."

"Full of Life" is a triumph for each of the principals, and it is especially encouraging to see Conte in a role that allows him to display his versatility. It is also a triumph for director Richard Quine and John Fante who adapted the screen play from his own novel.

And oh that Salvatore Baccaloni!

Canadian Tenor Wins London Opera Laurels

LONDON (CP)—Canadian tenor Jon Vickers is praised by weekend critics for his performance in HFFV Berlioz' epic opera "The Trojans," which opened last Thursday at Covent Garden.

Peter Heyworth says in the Observer that Vickers, Prince Albert, Sask., gives the opera's "outstanding performance" as Aeneas.

"This young Canadian has a fine voice with a heroic ring, yet he suffers from none of the knotted constriction characteristic of the breed of heroic tenor, and sings with easy tone and a strong sense of line. When he contrives to concentrate more searchingly on a mood he will be an outstanding singer."

Ernest Newman in the Sunday Times says Vickers, "though not intellectually ripe" for the role of Aeneas, is a "young singer with a future."

British Columbia's HISTORIC Bank

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

750 BRANCHES ACROSS CANADA READY TO SERVE YOU

Our connection with British Columbia predates the Canadian nation. Nearly a quarter of a century before the railway provided easy lines of communication between B.C. and the rest of the country, the Bank of British Columbia opened its doors in Victoria. Later that same year it added a second branch in New Westminster. When the historic Cariboo Gold Rush brought the need for a bank with courage to provide banking service to the lusty frontier town of Barkerville, a branch was opened there in 1867. And from these early days right to the present, The Canadian Bank of Commerce... which the Bank of British Columbia joined in 1901... has played a major role in the province's development. Today there are 115 branches serving the province, and more planned.

With such a history, we look upon our long association with British Columbia with quiet pride and a sense of belonging.

Small, Looping Plane, 'Flown by Hand', Rivals Sonic Boom Glamor Boys

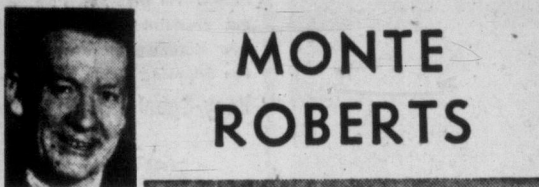

By AR KENT
Times Staff Reporter
Creating a "sonic boom" at 30,000 feet, the ground visible only in patches and your aircraft straining its every fibre in a full-power dive is just "routine."

Defence Minister Ralph O. Campney, flown in a Piasecki helicopter from University of B.C. campus, officially opened the flying portion of the program at 1.40 p.m.

W/C Hetherington made his demonstration completely obscured from earth, and in fact was doubtful for a time that the overcast would permit an attempt at flying at the speed of sound.

The air force trundled out all kinds of aircraft for display—from the lumbering soon-to-be-retired Second World War Lancaster bomber used by 407 Maritime Squadron, Comox; Canos, Otters and helicopters flown by aircrews of 121 Communications and Rescue Flight, Sea Island, to the fighter jets of Vancouver and New Westminster reserve squadrons and Comox permanent force 409 All Weather Squadron.

MONTE ROBERTS
You'll pardon me if I only drop in for a very short visit, but ...
Letter to hand from our Milnes' Landing correspondent, commenting on a recent column.
Says she: "At first glance your talk with Little Eva about graduating before writing exams seems a bit unusual. But, in many ways, isn't it like an election? The candidates will graduate, on Monday evening, and become Members of Parliament but we won't know whether they've passed until they go to work in Ottawa."
"If then."
Our Milnes' Landing correspondent sounds a bit cynical. Perhaps things would be better if all voters remembered the slogan:
"Spare the thought and spoil the ballot."
I am greatly heartened by the latest news from 'over 'ome.
The latest news from 'over 'ome tells us of the appointment of a new chairman of the board of governors of the BBC.
The new chairman does not own a television set and rarely, if ever, listens to a radio.
With these qualifications he will be able to do an excellent job.
His judgment will not be cluttered up with prejudices, pre-conceived ideas, or the slightest notion of what TV or radio is about.
Bravo for the BBC.
What we need are more heads of organizations who know nothing about the subject at hand.
... but I'm late, I'm late for a very important date. Perhaps you'd like to come with me while I run, not walk, to the nearest polling station.

CAPT. CHARLES GOODWIN
West Coast Loses Top Tug Skipper
Capt. Charles A. Goodwin died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Friday, and a fellow tugboat skipper summed it up over the ship-tug phone Friday night:
"Old Charlie gone? The West Coast won't be the same."
"Old Charlie" was only 54, but he had been a West Coast seaman most of his life, the last 20 years as master with Island Tug and Barge Ltd.
Previously he served with Victoria Tug Co., and there wasn't a bay or inlet or point on the B.C. coast he didn't know.
TAUT BUT HAPPY
The somewhat easy-going tugboat fraternity respected Capt. Goodwin as a kind-hearted disciplinarian who ran a taut but happy ship. For more than 12 years, he was master of the tug Island Commander, and during his command she was generally rated the best-maintained ship in the fleet.
Capt. Goodwin took a special delight in working with youngsters entering the profession as deck hands. He took a fatherly interest in them, and from them accepted—and was offered—no nonsense.
His life was dedicated to the sea, but two other interests held him when on leave—his Gordon Head home, and his fall hunting trips up-island.
Born in Victoria, he was a loyal native son and showed little interest outside of the Vancouver Island area.
Capt. Goodwin is survived by his wife, Marjorie, at the family residence, "Thrums," Ash Road; one son, Barrie; his mother, Mrs. C. A. Goodwin Sr., Victoria; three brothers, Fred and Ben in Victoria, and Nelson in Vancouver.
Funeral service will be held at 1.30 p.m. Tuesday at Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating. Interment will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

SALVAGE JOB FOR CITY TUG
Victoria based tug Island Commander has salvage operations in hand for the U.S. towboat John L.C., aground in Port Hardy harbor, on the northeast coast of Vancouver Island.
The 70-foot U.S. tug was anchored and her stern settled on a rock as the tide went out. Island Commander was to pump out the flooded tug, then haul her off at high water.
Assisting in salvage operations are the forestry vessel 'Tamarack' and the fishboat 'Sambo'.
Weekend Car Accidents Injure Four
Four persons were given hospital treatment for injuries suffered in weekend traffic accidents in Victoria and district, none of a serious nature.
Admitted and now in improved condition at St. Rest Hospital, Sidney, is Raymond Whalley, Denison Terrace, North Saanich, who received a head injury when the car he was driving went out of control and was wrecked on Patricia Bay Highway near Telegraph Road, at about 3.15 a.m. Sunday.
Central Saanich police said Whalley's 1948 model car was totally wrecked when it left the highway as it traveled north, rolled over and came to rest in a ditch.
Whalley, who was traveling alone, was picked up by a passing motorist.
At 3.45 a.m. Sunday, on Rocky Point Road, Metcheson, a car in which John Krasey, 21, Box 18, Glen Lake, and Raymond Phibault, 18, 2742 Sooke, were riding, left the road and resulted in chest injury to Krasey and face cuts to Phibault.
They were both in good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today.
Mrs. Maria Williams Yakima, Wash., was treated at St. Joseph's for knee and shoulder injuries after the car driven by Clarence Williams, Yakima, was in collision with an auto driven by Kathryn C. Dangerfield, 16, 2181 Haultain, at Howe and Dallas, Sunday, at 2.45 p.m.

700 Back Drive By Youth Club

New Centre, Drag Strip Sought in Two Petitions
More than 700 teenagers and adults jammed the Plaza Theatre Sunday afternoon to boost the city's new National Youth Club along the high road to organized activities for teenagers.
The first giant meeting of the club was attended by teenagers, parents, school board and service club officials.
More than 140 new members were signed bringing membership close to 500, aged 13 to 30. Suggestion that servicemen be admitted as members was approved by a unanimous vote.
Two city police officers were on duty at the three-hour meeting and both signed petitions to city council for a youth centre and drag strip.
Altogether 700 signatures were obtained for the two petitions—one for teenagers, the other for interested adults.
A representative of the Canadian Travellers' Association indicated his firm would support the club's proposed expansion across Canada.
First club function will be a rock 'n' roll dance to records at the CCF Hall, Douglas Street, Friday from 7.30 to 11 p.m.
"This will be the first time any group has been allowed to use the hall for rock 'n' roll dances without police officers or commissioners in attendance," supervisory manager of the club, Con Watling, said today.
The dance will be policed by 10 members of the youth police squad.
Bottle Drive to Raise Funds
A bottle drive is planned for Saturday, June 29, as a means of raising funds. There will be a door-to-door pick-up service.
Teenage fashion show for girls will be staged next fall.
Plans also are underway for "work days" when club members will take odd jobs and turn their earnings over to the club finance committee.
Short speeches endorsing the club's plans were made by W. H. Golby, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board, and representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, 4-H Club, Memorial Arena Commission and the Canadian Legion.
Ward Music Company and the Piccadilly Shop have offered discounts to club members carrying membership cards and Steve Allen, manager of the Plaza Theatre, announced he would admit members into the theatre at a reduced rate.

Rites Tuesday For Golfer Alfred Crump
Funeral service for Alfred Beveridge Crump, well-known local golfer and member of the Victoria Golf Club since 1922, will be held Tuesday at 3.15 p.m. from Hayward's Funeral Chapel.
Mr. Crump, retired, was a semi-finalist in the Empress golf tournament three years ago and some years before that was a finalist.
He died Saturday in Royal Jubilee Hospital, aged 53, after a lingering illness which had prevented his golfing in recent years.
Born in Winnipeg where his father owned a business block, he had lived in Victoria since his youth.
He was known among the golfing fraternity as a "good fellow" and top-form fairway man.
Among survivors are the widow, Elaine, at the family residence, 2468 McNeill, and a stepson, John Walker, at home; mother, Mrs. Percy A. Crump, 1312 Beach Drive, and a sister in Vancouver.
Ven. Archbishop A. E. deL. Nunn will officiate at the service. Cremation follows.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Freeman G. Sauf, 2137 Spring, was sentenced in Colwood RCMP court Saturday to a mandatory 14 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. It was his second offence.
A weekend break-in at Arrow Furniture Co. Ltd., 1321 Government netted only $22.16 in cash, but the thief carried off eight cheques made out to the firm for a total value of $298.69.
There was no sign of entry to premises, leading to the assumption the thief hid in the store after closing Saturday, and later left by a back door, which was found open.
Congregational meeting to discuss plans for a new church hall will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church lecture room Wednesday at 8 p.m.
Victoria Medical Society announced today that its limited supply of Salk anti-polio vaccine will not permit new registrations for Operation Polio. Second injections for persons who registered for the first shot last month are being given all this week at the two local hospitals.
Gunners of Esquimalt Garrison saluting station fired 21 rounds from six-pounger guns at noon at Work Point today honoring the 36th birthday of the Queen's consort, Prince Philip.
Although the International Union of Operating Engineers has been suspended from the Canadian Labor Congress charged with raiding other unions for members, the union will remain a member of the Victoria Labor Council while negotiations continue between the union and the CLC to settle the dispute.
Graham Steed, organist at Christ Church Cathedral, will give a music recital on the newly-dedicated pipe organ at St. Matthias Church, corner of Richmond and Richardson streets, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Program will include selection by Christa Ottepp, soprano.

Capital Region Planning Board will conduct a survey this summer to determine how much money tourists spend in Victoria. A previous estimate is $7,000,000 annually.
The information will be compiled as part of an overall future development plan for Greater Victoria area. At present the planners are studying traffic movements in the area with the aid of 39 students who are taking traffic counts each afternoon in the downtown area.
Robert Davis, 1418 Cook, was sentenced in city police court today to 30 days in jail on a charge of causing wilful damage totalling $50 June 7 at 1476 Gladstone.
Police said Davis broke a door at that address, residence of Mrs. Pearl Cook.

RARE DEAD HEAT RECORDED IN DARCY SHOAL YACHT RACE
A dead heat, rarely in yacht racing, was scored Sunday in the Dragon Class section of the annual Darcy Shoal race of Royal Victoria Yacht Club.
Lil, skippered by Harry Barnes, and Two Bits II, Jorgen Baess at the helm, fought it out down the home stretch to the Cadboro Bay finish line in a luffing match that ended without a decision.
Judges say the two boats crossed the line like a single silhouette.
"A" Class winner was Jack Smith's Reality, with L. E. Horn's Fox/second. Max Young in Skool took "C" Class, with Ned Ashe in Mae D second.

Gorge Residents Prepare Beach For Youngsters
Some 25 residents of Forshaw and Shirley roads in Esquimalt have banded together to sand the beach and "corral" the waters of the Gorge near their homes.
The municipality has supplied 25 yards of sand and five logs for a "floating corral" to add to the youngsters' swimming safety.
The small, rocky beach, used by almost 30 children on the two streets, is being transformed into a summer playground by parents' working parties at night and on weekends.
The project should be completed by the time the school children commence their holidays at the end of June, spokesman Mrs. Guy W. Pickard, 925 Shirley, said today.

TUESDAY MEETINGS
Victoria Electric Club: Monterey Restaurant, 12.05 p.m. Color film "Salmon Run" will be shown.
Victoria Kiwanis: Empress Hotel, 12.10 p.m. Dr. William Newton, Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanichton, will speak on "The Saturday Night Bath in Plant Pathology."
North Kiwanis: Moore-Whitington Lumber Co. Ltd., tour and dinner, 6.15 p.m.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Did U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt ever visit Victoria?
A.—Yes, he was here for a short time on Sunday, July 18, 1915. He spoke briefly to a crowd at the corner of the Causeway while on the way to Government House to call on the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Frank Barnard. He also visited the Provincial Museum. Another crowd saw him as he returned to the wharf to board the ship for Seattle.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Little Effort Needed For Shining Furniture

By PENNY SAVER

A really super new furniture polish has just come on the market here. Developed especially for a Victoria furniture store by the University of British Columbia Research Council, it comes in both cream and paste forms. The paste is not yet in but will be ready shortly, while the cream is 98c for a good-sized bottle.

The sponsors tell me it requires little rubbing, doesn't darken light woods, leaves no greasy film to show fingerprints, and cleans, polishes, and protects the surface.

But I decided I'd like to see it in action before I recommended it, so I marched into the store and asked for a demonstration.

An obliging salesman got down on his knees beside a large coffee table, sprinkled a few drops of the cream on a cloth, swooshed it over a corner, and there—with no polishing at all—was the most beautiful shiny finish.

I was very much impressed. So was the salesman. But the small bit he'd done looked so much nicer than the unpolished part that he had to do the entire table.

I left him on his knees, glowing, as he went to work on the vast surface.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

May she give boy friend clothes?

I have been going with a boy off and on for a year and a half. For his birthday I would like to give him clothes. But mother said, "No girl gives a boy clothes no matter how long she has gone with him." What should I do? Please list gifts that I could give him if I can't give him clothes. I might add that he had to quit college because he didn't have the money to go on.

Louise Davis answers: Listen to your mother and remember that years bring wisdom. I guarantee that you will be of the same opinion some day and will realize that your case is no exception. It is not correct to give a man clothing whether he is a long-time friend or whether he is a fiancé. Let the boy stand on his own two feet. You don't want to kick his pride to the ground, and you as a young woman want to respect him. This is a man's world in spite of the independence of women, and we women don't want to make mollycoddlers of our men. This boy will be all the stronger if he leans on his own resources rather than lean on people around him. Don't be such a foolish girl to consider it any more. The best thing that you can give this man for his birthday is encouragement. But if you feel compelled to give him a present, let it be something inexpensive and impersonal, such as handkerchiefs, a book, tie, ash tray. And whatever you do, don't lend him money either.

In Honor of The Bride

Mrs. M. Mooney and Mrs. W. Jeanes were co-hostesses at the home of the latter on Tattersall Drive when they entertained at a shower in honor of Miss Barbara Oliphant, who was married last Friday. The gifts were presented by Miss Linda Mills. The bride-elect received a corsage of pink carnations; her mother, Mrs. D. Oliphant, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. W. Dawson, received corsages of red carnations. Grandmothers of the bride-elect, Mrs. W. Jeanes, Sr., and Mrs. D. Oliphant, Sr., presided at the buffet table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of spring flowers. The bride-elect cut a specially-decorated shower cake made by Mrs. G. Catterall. Guests included Mrs. B. Lilley, Mrs. E. Cooper, Mrs. J. Hendricksen, Mrs. H. Braden, Mrs. R. Mooney, Mrs. F. "VICTORIA'S FAVORITE DRY CLEANER"

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is sad but true that many returning vacationists find that their memories of world-famous museums or mountain or sea-side resorts are marred by the recollection of smarting, tired feet. Vacation time is usually hard on our underpinnings!

If you are going to do a lot of sight seeing or a lot of walking, you can safeguard the pleasure of your trip by giving thought to the shoes you take along. Podiatrists recommend shoes that are leather throughout; soles and linings as well as uppers. The millions of little pores allow your feet to breathe and the leather gives you support you need.

It is also a good idea to take some closed toe and heel models since these are best when you are to be on your feet a lot. And, if your vacation spot has cobblestone streets, you'll want to be prepared. If you expect to do much looking about, you should have two pairs of walking shoes so that you can change them each day—even during the day when possible. This is restful.

These should have a sturdy, well-based heel not more than two inches high. These requirements, and those of fashion, too, are filled by the slenderized Cuban heel or the new contoured wedge heel.

When you buy your vacation walking shoes you would be wise to select them at the end of a shopping day. Feet swell after a day of this kind. If they feel comfortable they will be right for the many miles you will walk during your trip. Feet also tend to swell when you are seated for long periods such as when on a bus or train or plane trip.

PHONE TIMES, TUNE CKDA FOR ELECTION RESULTS

The Times will co-operate tonight with radio station CKDA in bringing results of the national election to the public as quickly as possible.

Starting sharp at 7 the Times telephone service, number 2-3131, will go into operation with up-to-the-minute figures on the counting so far. At the same time CKDA will begin broadcasting results. During the evening CKDA will make special broadcasts direct from the Times newsroom. A chart on Page 13 can be used to follow party standings by provinces.

Under the Canada Elections Act dissemination of eastern voting results is not permitted here until after the local polls close at 7. Should there be a big swing in the east the national trend may be established by that time, but if the east splits the whole election could rest on the results in B.C.

5 Lives Claimed By Island Waters

A 48-year-old Brentwood man was drowned Sunday morning while attempting to rescue his eight-year-old daughter from the treacherous waters off McCurdy Point, four miles due north of Hall's Boathouse on the Malahat side of Saanich Inlet.

The man, Cyril George Hawes, an asbestos worker of Grise Lane, Brentwood, drowned in 500 feet of water after his daughter, Angela, and his wife had been taken to safety.

His body had not been recovered up to press time. The fatality was one of five drownings which occurred in Vancouver Island waters over the weekend.

The others were: Josephine Henry, an 18-month-old baby, and her father, Hubert Henry, 26, of the Tsartlip Indian Band, West Saanich, in 500 feet of water off Gooch Island near Sidney.

A 19-year-old mainland youth, not yet identified, who drowned Sunday night at the Upper Campbell Lake damsite. Witnesses said the youth swam across the lake and presumably suffered a cramp. He tried to climb from the water, but was stopped by overhanging banks. Leslie Russell, 45, of Vesuvius Bay, Salt Spring Island, whose body was found floating beside his 18-foot launch in Stuart Channel, a few yards offshore from Crofton. Mr. Hawes, an employee at the Victoria Machinery Depot, leapt into 500 feet of water when eight-year-old Angela toppled out of his 20-foot cabin runabout.

He and his wife were fishing and their daughter was a passenger in the boat with Maureen Tattaral, 11, of Brentwood, when the accident occurred.

Heard Screams, Went to Rescue

Ralph Brown, 420 Hillside, Victoria, who was fishing nearby, heard screams and navigated his motor launch alongside the struggling girl.

"I managed to pull her out," Mr. Brown said, "but her father was some distance away and I could not reach him before he went down for the third time."

"Just before he disappeared he shouted to his wife to switch off the engine. Some other fishermen went to her assistance and switched it off."

Body May Be Miles Away by Now

"The water there is more than 600 feet deep in places and the currents are unpredictable," an RCMP officer said. "The body may be miles away by now."

J. McQuillan, who lives near the Hawes family at Brentwood, said Mr. Hawes invited him to go fishing with him Sunday morning.

"I could not make it," Mr.

"They then took Mrs. Hawes and Angela and the little girl Maureen ashore while I continued searching the area for Mr. Hawes."

"There was no sign of him," Mrs. Hawes, Angela and Maureen were reported suffering from shock and distress today but were otherwise unharmed.

RCMP motor launches were still searching the area for Mr. Hawes' body today, while a sea-plane circled overhead.

Mrs. Henry was almost miraculously saved by a party of three fishermen returning to Sidney. They saw the Henry's

Canadian Dollar Worth $1.05 at N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar today became exactly a nickel more valuable than its United States counterpart.

At $1.05 in terms of U.S. currency, the Canadian dollar was at its highest level since it reached $1.05 in November, 1933, just before the United States went off the gold standard.

ROME (Reuters)—Italy's Christian Democratic government, led by Senator Adone Zoli, resigned tonight after just two weeks in office.

$1,000 Reward for Lost V.I. Plane

VANCOUVER (CP)—A cash reward of $1,000 has been posted by a Duncan man for discovery of the wreckage of his brother's plane in Washington's rugged Cascade Mountains.

The little grey and red Piper Tri-Pacer bearing Duncan building contractor Warren Wall, 36; his wife, Mary, and their eight-year-old son, Glen, disappeared May 19 on a flight from Ellensburg to Everett under marginal weather conditions.

Red Wings Buy Back Sawchuk

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wings today bought back Terry Sawchuk, giving Boston Bruins left winger John Bucyk and an undisclosed amount of cash for the veteran goaltender who retired from the National Hockey League last December because of a nervous condition.

Prince Rupert Man, Son Drown

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—William Cooley, about 35, and his 3½-year-old son, David, are presumed to have drowned when their fishboat capsized Sunday afternoon in the waters of Dennis Arm near here.

Two others in the Cooley boat, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Becker, managed to swim the 100 yards to shore.

Ike's Illness 'Not Serious'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An "upset stomach" put President Eisenhower in bed today. But three examining physicians said there is "no indication" the illness is "in any way related" to Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack or to last year's hepatitis condition.

"The president is progressing very satisfactorily," the White House press secretary, James Hagerty, told a press conference after consultation with Eisenhower's doctors.

Hagerty said the report he put out came from Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart specialist at the U.S. Army's Walter Reed Hospital; Maj.-Gen. Leonard Heaton, Walter Reed commandant; and Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician.

Eisenhower was stricken about 10 p.m. Sunday night, and was nauseated and vomiting during part of the night. Snyder remained with him all night.

The other physicians were called in today for consultation in what the White House described as a "precautionary" step.

In reply to a question at the midday press conference, Hagerty said there were no plans for moving the president to hospital.

Hagerty first announced this morning that the president had suffered the attack. In his second statement Hagerty said:

"The president is progressing very satisfactorily. He has had no nausea from his stomach since early this morning."

"He now is sleeping comfortably."

HAVE YOU?

Voters began arriving early, soon after the polls opened at 9 this morning. Mrs. Betty Watts, 2811 Nanaimo, brought her family along to S. J. Willis School. She's holding seven-week-old Jay while 2½-year-old Barry and chum Brent Dunford, four, of 770 Market, wait impatiently.

U.S. Not Disarming On Soviet Promises

(See Also Page 22)
WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that the United States will never disarm "merely because of Soviet promises" to behave.

Dulles said it would be reckless "folly" for this nation to do that.

He said, however, that the United States is "actively seeking, through United Nations procedures, ways whereby armaments can be safely reduced."

Dulles made the statement before the house foreign affairs committee in defence of President Eisenhower's foreign aid budget.

At the capitol, Vice-President Richard Nixon told reporters: "We expect to see him (Eisenhower) back in his office tomorrow."

The announcement of Eisenhower's illness sent the New York Stock Exchange into a frantic wave of selling, but as later bulletins were announced it began to recover.

Hagerty said Eisenhower's appointments for the day were cancelled on the advice of Dr. Snyder.

Steady Stream Holds From Early Morning

Sunny weather and high interest in the two local election races brought out a steady stream of voters this morning.

There were indications at noon that both Esquimalt-Saanich and Victoria would have record turnouts.

S. S. Penny, Esquimalt-Saanich returning officer, reported from his office at Sidney that an "unusually large" number of voters had come out in the riding during the morning.

He predicted a record vote, partly on the strength of 4,000 new voters registered since 1953.

Alan Macfarlane, Victoria returning officer, said voting had been steady in his riding from the time the polls opened at 9 a.m. A record vote was indicated, he said.

Both returning officers reported their machinery was working smoothly and there were few complaints.

Voters were again urged to bring a copy of their voters' list or enumerator's slip to the polling station. Polls close at 7 p.m.

Some persons were heard to complain that they were unable to vote on the way to work as they can in provincial elections, when the polls are open at 8 a.m. instead of 9.

Over Six Million Voters on Move

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — As Canadians trooped to the polls today more than 6,000,000 out of the eligible 9,000,000 voters are expected to have marked their X's on the ballots by the time the polls close.

The cheering and jeering is over. The cross-country parade of political leaders has come to an end. Now the Canadian voter has his say as to who will sit in the 23rd Parliament.

The little man in the polling booth will decide whether the Queen Elizabeth will make a Liberal administration is to quick visit to Ottawa en route continue for another four or to the United States to take part five years, or whether Canada is to have a "Diefenbaker" government.

Except for the Prairie provinces where coldness, clouds and some rainstorms were keeping the stream of voters at a slow but steady pace, the weather across Canada was generally sunny adding strength to the forecasts of an exceptionally heavy poll.

Soon after the new Commons has been selected it is expected that it will be formally announced that Her Majesty the Queen will open the new Parliament sometime in October.

'Death Row' Author Granted New Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered a new hearing for Caryl Chessman, California sex terrorist and prison cell author.

The court split 5 to 3 in the case of Chessman, who has waged a nine-year legal fight to escape death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

The majority said the California Supreme Court's affirmation of accuracy petitioner (Chessman) has had no voice in determining, cannot be allowed to stand.

Thus Chessman is entitled to a new hearing before the California Supreme Court, the court said.

Chessman was known as the "red light bandit" of lover's lanes in Los Angeles. His latest appeal centred on the issue of the accuracy and legality of a transcript of his 1948 trial.

The transcript was prepared by Stanley Frasier from notes taken by Ernest R. Perry, trial court reporter who died before he could transcribe all of his notes. Frasier is a relative by marriage of the deputy district attorney who prosecuted Chessman.

Chessman's death sentence was pronounced under California's Little Lindbergh Law. This makes kidnapping a capital offence if the person abducted suffers bodily harm.

Chessman also was convicted of attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery, automobile theft and other crimes.

U.K. Frogman's Disappearance Revived as Body Washed Ashore

CHICHESTER, Eng. (AP)—War frogman disappeared on a mysterious diving operation near a Russian warship.

Crabb's mission has never been officially explained. Sir Anthony Eden, then prime minister, was questioned in the Commons about whether Crabb had been spying on the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev to Britain in April last year. Eden declined to answer, hinting that a reply might stir up international complications.

Russian seamen on the Ordzhonikidze reportedly saw a frogman—presumably Crabb—near their vessel in Portsmouth harbor. Russia protested. The British reply expressed regret and said that what Crabb was doing was "completely unauthorized."

The Admiralty would say only that Crabb was presumed dead after failing to return from a test dive on April 19, 1956.

A West German newspaper said it learned from a Soviet naval officer that Crabb was a frogman and was a prisoner in a LONDON (AP)—Two London newspapers say Israel has broken the eight-year Arab blockade of the Aqaba Gulf by sending the 1,554-ton freighter Athlit through the waterway to Elath.

The Daily Mail story was carried under a Halifax date. The Daily Express story was undated. Neither gave any source for the stories nor did they say when the Athlit reached Elath.

ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS

MONTREAL (CP)—Thugs stole "about 100 ballots at revolver point" in nearby Longueuil constituency, police reported today.

In another election-day incident a ballot box was stuffed in the neighboring riding of Chambly-Rouville.

SEIZES BALLOTS

At Belecil, returning officer Daniel Beauregard said a man dashed into Poll 85, seized a batch of ballots, hastily marked them and stuffed them into the ballot box before startled officials could interfere. The man then fled.

The ridings are side by side on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, just across from Montreal.

Ville Jacques-Cartier was the scene June 1 of a hectic municipal election in which the Riot Act was read to quell threatening violence by hired "goon gangs" from Montreal.

GUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent cast his ballot today in the election he hopes will return him as leader of the Canadian government. Skies were sunny and the temperature a mild 64 degrees.

Mr. St. Laurent, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, stepped from his three-story brown brick home on Quebec's Grande Allée an hour after the polls opened.

He drove the half block to the poll in a black limousine but strove home after casting his ballot.

After his ballot was dropped in the box, the prime minister smiled and patted the container.

"Another good vote," he murmured.

EDMONTON (CP)—A new weather disturbance brought rain to most of Alberta today, dumping up to one-quarter of an inch of moisture on some areas before the polls opened.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, cloudy and cool weather persisted but those provinces expected little, if any, rain during the day.

HALIFAX (BUP)—Warm air and sunshine produced perfect weather throughout the Atlantic provinces today and voting appeared heavy in many sections.

In the double riding of Halifax, the largest constituency in Canada with some 107,000 eligible voters, long lines were reported before the polls opened.

REGINA (CP)—A slow but steady stream of voters cast their ballots in Regina today on a grey, overcast, unseasonably cold morning.

Returning officer Frank M. Smith said early polling indicated a slightly heavier vote than in 1953, when 31,764 ballots were cast. About 50,000 persons are eligible to vote.

The temperature at 11 a.m. MDT was only 49.

SUNDAY BALL HEARING OPENS TODAY

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The latest round in the battle between the Vancouver Mounties base-ball club and supporters of the Lord's Day Alliance opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon today at city police court in a case that could decide whether a crack-down should be imposed on Sunday activities in British Columbia. The case was expected to be remanded to June 18.

Executive members of the Pacific Coast League squad were to appear in court on the order of a summons issued last Monday after Sunday games were staged on three separate occasions in Vancouver's Capilano Stadium.

DROWNINGS

high-speed boat circling out of control about 8.15 p.m.

Mrs. Henry, who said she could not swim, was still floundering in the water and the child was floating on the surface about 40 feet away.

Mother and baby were pulled out of the water by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mowbray, 1471 Bute Street, Victoria.

"The baby was dead," Mr. Mowbray said, "and Mrs. Henry was practically unconscious. We took her ashore and soon after she was rushed to Rest Haven Hospital in an ambulance."

Mrs. Henry was today reported to be making "fair progress."

Sixty RCMP officers were still searching the four miles of water between Sidney and Gooch Island for Mrs. Henry's body.

Two other boats arrived on the scene soon after Mrs. Henry had been rescued.

John Murray, 3391 Doncaster, Victoria, jumped aboard the Henry's launch as it circled out of control and switched off the engine.

Gordon Dennis, 2499 Eastdowne, Victoria, joined in the search for Mr. Henry's body.

INQUIRY

Dr. E. C. Hart, Victoria coroner, said he will conduct an inquiry into the deaths of baby Josephine and her father, and Cyril George Hawes.

The body of Leslie Russell, 45-year-old engineer and father of three, was found Saturday night floating beside his launch in Stuart Channel a few yards offshore from Crofton.

Police said he apparently fell into the water while mooring his 18-foot motor launch. He used the launch to commute to Crofton where he was working on the Crofton Pulp Mill Project.

He was employed with the Commonwealth Construction Co. Only 10 days before, he and his family had taken a one-year lease on a home at Vesuvius Bay.

An inquest will be held.

in the anniversary celebration of the founding of the first British colony in Virginia.

Should the Liberals be returned to power a cabinet meeting would be called for Thursday. Hon. Walter Harris, minister of finance, said in Toronto over the weekend that he hopes and expects a re-elected Liberal cabinet will be able to deal with the problem of a general civil service salary increase at that meeting. Parliamentary approval would be required to make the increases operative, but they would probably be retroactive.

Prime Minister Louis S. St. Laurent has indicated that a few cabinet changes might be announced Thursday should his government be returned to power. Hon. Roch Pinard, secretary of state and Hon. George Prud'homme, minister of mines, have retired and their posts must be filled.

Should John Diefenbaker be successful in winning power then there would be a delay of up to 10 days or more in order to allow the Progressive Conservative leader to select a cabinet and to enable the outgoing administration to clean up left-over business.

ONTARIO KEY POINT

The major interest in the east-centred on Ontario.

Public opinion polls have shown that Quebec will certainly remain overwhelmingly Liberal, but indicate there has been a considerable swing of strength in Ontario where in popular support the Conservatives appear to have a small edge this year by contrast to 1953 when Liberals took 50 of the 85 seats. So it is here the chief concern will be in tonight's counting.

Bourges-Maunoury To Become Next French Premier

PARIS (Reuters)—President Rene Coty today named Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, 42-year-old Radical party leader, as French premier-designate.

An announcement from the president's office said Coty had nominated Bourges-Maunoury as premier-designate and in consequence accepted the resignation of Guy Mollet, outgoing Socialist premier whose coalition was defeated on a confidence vote on new tax demands May 21.

The president said he would accept the collective resignation of the Mollet cabinet Tuesday night.

Bourges-Maunoury is expected to present the new cabinet for investiture by the National Assembly Wednesday. If he wins the approval of the Assembly he will end France's three-week political crisis and become the country's youngest premier since 1883, and its 23rd since the Second World War.

written by Sinclair and stacked in a neat pile. One said: "I am a split personality."

Bludgeoned in their beds with a piece of pipe were James Sinclair Sr., 74, and his wife, Helen, 72, who had come from the Isle of Arran, Scotland, for a four-month visit with their son. His wife, Margaret, 33, and his son, Ian, 7, were killed in the same way. Two-year-old Joy was strangled with a necktie, apparently because the walls of her crib made it difficult to club her cleanly.

COULDN'T DRINK

Police said Sinclair's note declared his wife and parents had restricted him to a way of life which prevented him from expressing himself. Neighbors had been kind to him, but he had been fed up with the idea he couldn't drink in the presence of his parents because it embarrassed them.

This was how police reconstructed it:

Sinclair awoke at 5 a.m. in the white stucco house he had built in suburban Long Branch.

Dressed in shirt and shorts, he went down to the basement and returned carrying a 15-inch length of 2½-inch copper pipe with an elbow at one end, the leftover of a repair job on the kitchen sink.

Toronto Home Razed By Blast; 3 Injured

TORONTO (CP)—An explosion blew apart a private home and shook a wide area of the Toronto suburb of North York early today, sending three persons to hospital in serious condition.

Firemen and the Consumers Gas Company were trying to determine whether the blast originated in a gas line.

The injured: Mrs. Margaret McKenna; her son, Michael, 6, and Mrs. Edith Creasor, her mother.

The house was demolished. Draperies hung in the trees outside. Fragments clattered off the walls of neighboring buildings. Concrete blocks were hurled on to adjacent properties.

POWER DISRUPTED

A police constable said the house "looked as if dynamite had been planted all around it and touched off." The blast disrupted power service over a wide area.

A sign advertising insurance, 200 feet from the house and bearing the inscription: "Thinking About Protection?" was pierced by a flying board.

Curtains were driven 70 feet to the home of neighbor, F. R. Jacob, and plastered on to his outside wall.

A budgie bird was blown out of the house, still in its cage, and found an hour later—still alive.

FALLS INTO CELLAR

The only occupant visible when neighbors sped to the wreckage was Michael McKenna who had tumbled into the cellar. The two women were buried in rubble beyond the foundation boundary and had to be dug out.

Firemen thought baby Leo was still inside and dug for more than an hour before they learned that McKenna was away with the lot.

Mrs. E. E. Sheridan, 31, standing in her backyard a few doors away, said she heard the explosion and wheeled around.

"I saw the roof suspended in the air a long way up. Debris filled the air. It started to fall slowly and the noise of the explosion was followed by other crashes as boards and timbers struck the ground."

The house was equipped with both a gas stove and an oil furnace.

New Inconspicuous Zenith Quality Hearing Aid offers more for $125 than other at-the-ear hearing aids averaging $256!

Zenith "Diplomat" at-the-ear hearing aid. 4 transistors. Price... $125

Average price of eight other at-the-ear hearing aids tested and compared by Zenith's Acoustic Engineers... $256

NO DANGLING CORDS... NO CLOTHING NOISE... NOTHING ON BODY OR NECK... WORN ENTIRELY AT THE EAR!

Zenith Hearing Aids are one of the rare electrical or mechanical products which sell in Canada for the same price as in U.S.A.

More usable power! More convenience features! Broader sound range! Yet far lower priced!

Zenith's Acoustic Engineers tested the Zenith Diplomat against eight competitive at-the-ear hearing aids purchased on the open market. All instruments were in proper working condition when tested.

These tests showed that the Diplomat at $125, offers more advantages than any of the eight other brands averaging $256.

★ YOU'RE LUCKY

We're forced to balance our inventory of Demonstrator cars... the financial manager has ordered five to be sacrificed, sold immediately. All brand new cars. Actually better than new... completely serviced each week, they're kept at peak performance. They've got to be—after all, they're demonstrators. Gone only 2 or 3 thousand miles, they cannot be sold as new. This means, if you hurry, you'll get a brand new '57 FORD at a greatly reduced price PLUS a special over-allowance on your trade-in. Only National Motors can give you this, because through their volume purchasing the factory gives them a greater discount. Part of this money is passed on to you in the form of a special over-allowance on your trade-in.

Rush! Choose from five of the finest '57 Fords. Even though these cars are sacrificed, all extras will be left in—such as turn indicators, power brakes, custom radio, custom heater air conditioner, safety kit, windshield washer, twin fender mirrors, white wall tires and chrome discs. Two and four-door models, in single or two-tone. Easy terms. Fully guaranteed.

So drop everything... leave the dishes in the sink and get down to National Motors, 819 Yates, this minute... or phone 4-8174 and have one held. Open 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Act immediately! Remember... only five will be sacrificed, SO...
